

BAPTISTS PROPOSE TO BUILD SANITARIUM HERE

MEETING AT DINNER AT FIRST CHURCH PROJECT IS FULLY DISCUSSED.

ITS NEED ADMITTED

AND THIS IS THE PRACTICAL TIME TO DO.

WACO IS THE LOGICAL PLACE

Dr. Barton Preaches at the Meeting. Many Prominent Church People Are in Attendance.

That a new sanitarium, fire proof and of the first class, should be built for Central Texas and located in Waco, was the enthusiastic decision of seventy-five representatives of the Baptist churches of this section who met to consider the project at a banquet in the parlors of the First Baptist church last night.

The matter has been held quietly under advisement by a committee representing the associated Baptists of this section for some time, and the project was definitely launched when it was voted at the banquet that a definite program be worked out by the committee and a financial manager be chosen to get the new institution under headway. It is the sense of the Baptist denomination that the sanitarium will be a constructive force for great public good, unhampered by the restrictions of religious creeds or limited to a locality.

Dr. A. J. Barton, as chairman of the committee representing the denominational association and local sub-committee, presided at the meeting. Present as guests of honor of the committee were Dr. W. H. Mayfield of St. Louis, head of the Mayfield sanitarium, one of the best-known in the world, and Dr. R. H. Pe-yoto, head of the Baptist sanitarium in Houston.

Waco the Logical Place.
The committee announced that while little information of the proposed institution had been given to the public, a certain city in the country had offered a bonus of $50,000 to secure the sanitarium. The sentiment of the denomination, however, seems to be that Waco is the logical location for the institution, and there is practically no question as to the selection.

The first building is planned for fifty beds and the structure is to be of the most modern construction. The money for the cost of erection will be, of course, largely given by the Baptists of this section and will be collected under the direction of a financial manager to be appointed later. It is expected that the institution will in a short time care for its own running expenses.

The keynote thought expressed in the speeches was there is a great need of such an institution and the project could be successfully carried through with credit to the church, which would foster it and the cause of progressive citizenship.

Dr. Barton's Views.

Dr. Barton said:
"We have worked as a committee on the proposition of establishment of the sanitarium for several years, and we have decided there is a real demand for it and that Waco is the logical place for it. The project is not in any way a discount or disparagement to the present institution, but there is a necessity for the enlargement of the facilities for this nature of work."
"The Baptists to be progressive and aggressive in the cause of right and religion must meet every phase of the demands of the age. It is the sense of the committee that the first building be first-class in every respect, and that definite arrangements be made for financing at once."

There is nothing that will put the denomination more to the forefront than great sanitariums, he said. He spoke enthusiastically of the denominational institutions in Dallas and Houston and declared that Central Texas should have a similar institution. There were three sides of the church, the evangelical, educational and benevolent, and the last phase must receive due attention, he said. He declared that the church element

Eldridge Charges Pen People Deal With the Sugar Trust

Austin, July 1.—At the meeting of the penitentiary investigation committee today W. T. Eldridge submitted a report to the committee of such nature that it was immediately turned over to the attorney general's department for consideration. The report is glaring in its nature and may result in legal complications. Mr. Eldridge consented to publication of the article on agreement that it would not be used before Sunday, July 6.

He sought to show that the prison commission had been dealing with the sugar trust. He presented documents, copies of letters and testimony taken by the federal government in the case against the American Sugar Refining company. The documents and testimony was submitted to the attorney general for

HEAT WAVE IS NOW BROKEN

Thunderstorms Give Relief in Several Cities—Many Deaths Are Reported.

Chicago, July 1.—Although the heat wave was broken last night and the government thermometer indicated 79 degrees today, ten additional deaths were reported to the coroner this afternoon of persons previously stricken. Relief came in the afternoon when the northeast wind brought thunder showers and the mercury rapidly receded. The showers continued through out the night. Lightning caused some damage.

New York, July 1.—One death and more than sixty prostrations from heat occurred here today. The highest temperature recorded by the local weather bureau was 90 at 4 p. m., exceeded only by the 91 mark of June 16 for this year. The present heat wave is forecasted to abate tomorrow.

Four Died in Louisville.
Louisville, Ky., July 1.—Four deaths resulted from the heat here today, although a drop in temperature and a breeze modified suffering. Two women were prostrated and died later and two boys were drowned while in bathing, seeking relief from the heat. The maximum today was 95 degrees.

Metastases of Year in Boston.
Boston, July 1.—One man died and more than half a hundred persons collapsed in greater Boston today and tonight, victims of extreme heat. It was the hottest day in a year. Officially the maximum temperature was 94, but thermometers in many places indicated over 100 degrees.

Relief by Thunder Shower.

SUES GOVERNOR SULZER.

Department Store Girl Says He Promised to Marry Her.

Philadelphia, July 1.—William Sulzer of New York, was named as defendant in a breach of promise suit when a summons of trespass was issued here today. According to the plaintiff's attorney, the defendant is Governor William Sulzer of New York. The plaintiff is Miss Mignon Hopkins, an attractive woman about 35 years of age, who formerly lived in Brooklyn, but who now is employed in a department store in this city.

Counsel for the young woman, first applied for a capias, which would have permitted Sulzer's arrest should he appear in this state. The judge before whom the application was made refused to order a capias and suit was then begun in the ordinary manner.

It was reported that the alleged contract of marriage was made September 15, 1902, in New York City. Miss Hopkins refused to say anything more than that Governor Sulzer is the man referred to in her suit.

Convicted of Bribery.
Webster Springs, Va., July 1.—State Senator Ben A. Smith was convicted by a jury tonight of bribery in connection with accepting $1200 to vote for William Belmont Edwards as a candidate for the United States senate.

Senator Smith and his wife were overcome when the verdict was announced. The penalty is from five to ten years in the penitentiary.

Three Additional Deaths.
Buffalo, June 1.—Three more men who were burned in the Husted mill explosion a week ago, today died in hospitals, bringing the total known dead to 22. Eight bodies are believed to be in the ruins.

IT IS PUZZLING IN THE BALKANS

SERBIA ACCEPTS ARBITRATION, ALTHOUGH DECLARING A STATE OF WAR.

DISPATCHES ARE CONFLICTING

Some Say Fighting Has Ceased and Others That the Clash of Arms Continues.

London, July 1.—The Balkan situation is extremely puzzling. The Serbian government announces almost in the same breath the acceptance of Russian arbitration and the existence of a state of war.

The dispatches which arrived tonight from Belgrade are of the most conflicting character. Some announce that fighting has ceased since Monday; others that serious fighting continues and that the Serbians have captured Istip and Krupnik, with heavy losses on both sides.

All these reports must be regarded with suspicion. There has been no formal declaration of war or interruption of diplomatic relations as yet. The peace conference working actively to avert a war which might before long break out in Europe.

At London a special conference met at 10 o'clock to discuss the situation, but arrived at no decision. Nothing is known concerning Roumania's attitude. A Bulgarian official statement has been issued confirming the capture of Guevgeli and the throwing back of the Greek forces on the Struma.

Accusations of massacres and rapine so common during the last war, are again being spread abroad, especially by the Greeks, although according to official reports, the opposing states have ordered their armies to remain on the defensive. All of the former allies are making warlike preparations and are organizing hospital and medical services.

A dispatch from Rome says that Turkey has notified Bulgaria that unless she abandons her claim to a war indemnity Turkey will join with Serbia and Greece in event of hostilities.

Servia Says at War.
Belgrade, July 1.—"We are at war with Bulgaria," said the Serbian minister of the interior, M. Protic, speaking in behalf of the government in the Skupstina.

"Instructions have been given to the Serbian commander in chief," continued the minister, "to be prepared to defend our entire line. Bulgaria has attacked us along the whole frontier."

INDICTMENT IN OKLAHOMA

Eleven Men Are Charged With Trying to Defraud the Osage Indians.

Enid, Okla., July 1.—Charged with conspiracy to defraud the government by influencing the Osage Indian council to accept bids on oil lands that were not acceptable to the department of the interior, eleven men, including officials of the Uncle Sam Oil company, prominent politicians and attorneys of both Pawhuska, Okla., and Kansas City, were arrested today on indictments returned by the federal grand jury, which concluded its sessions here a few days ago.

The indicted men all were released on $2,000 bond each. Those indicted were: John Leake, prominent politician, and his brother W. T. Leahy, both attorneys of Pawhuska; H. H. Tucker, Kansas City, president of the Uncle Sam Oil company; Albert Wilson, attorney for Uncle Sam Oil company, Kansas City; John Palmer, Osage attorney; Wesley M. Dial, member Osage Council; W. C. Plumb, Kansas City; A. M. Constock, Eugene Scott, W. A. Matthews and Ed Brown, all of Pawhuska.

The indictments grew out of the removal of the Osage council by former Secretary of the Interior Walter Fisher when special agents of the department reported that the council was bribed to approve leases of the Uncle Sam company on 460,000 acres of the unleased portion of the Osage Nation.

Nothing to It.

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—"Nothing to it—merely another story started by my enemies."

This was Governor Sulzer's reply today when questioned concerning the suit brought against him by Miss Mignon Hopkins of Philadelphia. The governor refused to discuss the case further.

Fired By Wire Is Fate of Herrington

San Francisco, July 1.—Clayton Herrington, investigator for the United States department of justice, with headquarters in this city, was dismissed from the federal service today by Attorney General McReynolds. Herrington had been under suspension since early last week for having telegraphed to President Wilson a demand that the attorney general be ousted from office because of the action he took in the Dicks-Caminetti and Western Fuel company cases, which resulted in the resignation of United States District Attorney John L. McNab. The notice of dismissal received by telegraph was as follows: "You are dismissed from the department of justice, effective immediately. McReynolds."

R. M. Johnston

Editor in chief of the Houston Post named by Governor Colquitt as a member of the board of directors of the A. & M. College of Texas.

NEW MEMBERS STATE BOARD

R. M. Johnston Goes to the Directory of the A. & M. College of Texas.

Austin, July 1.—By reason of the law of the recent legislature, which changed the number of members of the board of regents of the University of Texas and the board of directors of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, and boards of other state institutions, Governor Colquitt today announced the appointment of members to fill the vacancies created by the increase in the number of members.

As a fifth member of the board of regents of the University of Texas, Dr. A. W. Myer was appointed.

R. M. Johnston of Harris county, and Hon. Thos. E. Battle of Falls county were appointed as additional members of the board of directors of the A. & M. College.

One member of the board of regents of the College of Industrial Arts must be dropped. This action will be left to the board itself.

To succeed O. D. Parker of the board of trustees of the blind institute, who recently resigned, W. A. Trencmann of Travis county was appointed, and Ed Giesen of Hays county was appointed.

Republicans Nominates.

Little Rock, July 1.—The Republican State convention today nominated Harry Myers, present superintendent of the government reservation at Hot Springs, for governor.

Many of the delegates were in favor of not naming a candidate. They argued that the present row in the Democratic ranks gave an excellent chance to Col. Geo. W. Murphy, the progressive nominee, if the Republicans gave him their support.

The Weather

West Texas—Fair Wednesday and Thursday.
Louisiana—Showers Wednesday; Thursday probably fair, except showers in southeast portion; moderate south winds.

GETTYSBURG IS SCENE OF PEACE

GENERALS OF A GREAT WAR TELL OF THE UNITED COUNTRY.

ONLY FRIENDSHIP IS SENTIMENT

No History Records Such a Reunion of Men Who Were in Opposing Armies.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 1.—In the glare of a sun that sent the mercury bobbing over the 100 mark, the armies of the North and South today began the formal exercises which mark the semi-centennial of Gettysburg. Fifteen thousand veterans, the army officers estimated, filled into the big tent set apart for the exercises, sat in the haze of heat for two hours and shook the camp with their cheers when the speakers made reference to a reunited nation. Every seat under the canvas was taken long before Secretary of War Garrison and Governor Tener, the orators of the day, arrived.

Although the men in gray were far outnumbered by those in blue, there were possibly a thousand Southerners in the amphitheater and what they lacked in number they made up in lung power. When Governor Tener finished his speech, General Bennett H. Young, commander-in-chief of the Confederate veterans, rose.

Gave the Rebel Yell.
"I can give you something that no one else can give you," he said. "We will now give you the rebel yell."

Nine famous Confederate generals and a thousand veterans of the South gave it so loudly that it was heard far back in the camp toward Gettysburg.

When General Young stepped forward to deliver his address the Union veterans, led by Commander-in-Chief Beers, gave three cheers and a "tiger."

One of his opening statements was that the Northern soldiers deserved more credit than the Southern for the promulgation and successful realization of the present great reunion, which he characterized as the greatest movement of his kind in the world.

This compliment to the northern veterans was greeted with loud cries of "No," to which General Young quickly replied:

"I know better than you do."
Among the two hundred guests on the platform were Governors Mann of Virginia, McCrery of Kentucky and Eberhardt of Minnesota; Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania; and the following Confederate generals: Robertson of Texas, West of Georgia, Thomas J. of Louisiana, A. D. Williams of Florida, E. M. Law of Florida and Carr of North Carolina.

The invocation was delivered by the Rev. George Edwards Lovejoy, chaplain in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. The benediction was to have been delivered by the Rev. J. H. Hammill, chaplain general of the Confederate veterans, who did not appear.

In Camp Are 50,000.
Late today Major Normoyle, second in command to Brigadier General Liggett, estimated that more than 50,000 men were gathered in a camp intended to hold 40,000. Through persistent efforts, however, every man has been cared for as well as possible.

There are more than 3000 veterans from Virginia and it is probable that a quarter of the total number is represented by the men from Dixie.

Many veterans got no better than one meal in camp and one look at the crowded tents and then started back home as quickly as they could go. The real exodus, however, will not begin until Thursday or Friday, for thousands who might have left sooner expect to stay over the Fourth to see President Wilson.

Before the morning exercises the reunions of regiments and companies and squadrons began. Confederates with life and drum in Spangler's woods where the columns of Pickett formed on July 3, 1863, to begin the charge that marked the high tide of the lost cause.

July 1 Reunion.
On the edge of the union side of the camp the veterans of Meredith's iron brigade and of Pettigrew's brigade of North Carolina got together to recover the story of the fight of the first of July. The struggle between the regiments of these two brigades was the most disastrous in number of those killed in the entire three days' fighting and was seldom equalled in the whole history of the war. They met today many of them for the first time since '63.

The first death of a veteran in the town of Gettysburg occurred this afternoon. The victim was J. D. Albert of Washington, D. C., about 70 years old. He is said to have been prominently connected with the United States pension office. Death was due to a stroke of paralysis.

The fifth death reported in camp was that of C. Yates, aged 70, a veteran from Leboe, Pa., who died late today as a result of heat prostration.

Welcome to Garrison.
Veterans of the Civil war, Union and Confederates, gathered together here today to commemorate the mighty battle fought on Gettysburg field fifty years ago, were welcomed by Lindsey M. Garrison, secretary of war. Mr. Garrison said:

"In the name of the nation, I bid you welcome. In the name of the whole people of a united country, I bid you twice welcome. In the name of its people who recognize the high import of this fraternal gathering, you are thrice welcome."

MULHALL CHARGES.

A summary of the charges made by M. M. Mulhall will be found on Page 4 of this issue of the Morning News.

Washington, July 1.—With witnesses headed for Washington from many directions to testify on the newest development in the senate's lobby investigation, Senator Overman gave a hint tonight of further sensations in the committee's activities. An inquiry has been under way for some time, it is understood, into operations of paid press bureaus conducted by large corporations and "interests," and the committee expects to determine to what extent paid publicity agents are employed to attempt to influence public opinion or direct federal legislation.

Charges by Martin M. Mulhall, former representative of the Manufacturers' association, regarding his lobbying operations, will not be opened formally until next Tuesday. Tomorrow's hearing will be devoted primarily to the testimony of Wall Street men believed to have information as to lobbying activities in New York, in which the names of congressmen are freely used.

Developments today indicated that officers of the senate and members of the lobby committee have been busy securing new information, the nature of which is now concealed. Senator Reed, who went to New York yesterday, is said to have acted for the committee unofficially in obtaining the names of desired witnesses.

Interest centers today again about the charges involving many present and former members of congress contained in the correspondence Mulhall has made public covering his eight years of service as an agent of the National Association of Manufacturers. Former Presidents Parry and Kirby, of that organization, who were elected to that office in San Francisco for Australia, cancelled their passage on the demand of the officials, and will come to Washington to testify.

House Proposes a Probe.
A demand for a probe in the house tomorrow by Representative Sherley of Kentucky and Neely of Kansas for an immediate investigation of the Mulhall charges by that body. Both representatives propose a committee of five to take up the allegations made by Mulhall that the Manufacturers' association financed campaigns, elected and defeated congressmen, dictated legislation and controlled the make-up of committees.

The senate committee has secured the Mulhall papers, however, and proposes to hold them for its inquiry. A subpoena served on Louis J. Sherry of the New York World requiring him to produce the mass of letters and documents turned over to the World by Mulhall, James A. Emery, representative of the Association of Manufacturers in Washington, also has been subpoenaed to bring all his papers bearing on legislative activities.

Too Look Into Press Bureaus.
Senator Overman declined to reveal the extent of the proposed investigation into paid press bureaus further than to say that "other developments are coming."

The committee learned during its interrogation of so-called "sugar lobbyists" that large sums had been spent for publicity and for contracts covering certain kinds of news service. It is understood that efforts will be made to determine the extent and character of all paid news service connected with influencing legislation.

Louis J. Siebold of New York, has also accepted service. He has been called as a newspaper man connected with the publication of the Mulhall statement to give the committee what information he can as to its preparation and as to the letters and telegrams Mulhall has agreed to produce.

Gompers to Testify.
Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who figured prominently in Mulhall's story, as the object of a long continued attack by those who attempted to bribe him and force him to give up his fight in behalf of labor legislation, has made public a detailed report of the attempted bribery. It confirms the story told by Mulhall.

The Gompers statement is a report that the labor leader prepared in 1907, after his experience with Broughton Brandenburg, now a convict in Sing Sing, who claimed to be in the employ of the National Association of Manufacturers. Efforts to secure private interviews with Gompers aroused the latter's suspicion and he took a number of labor leaders into his confidence and later made a full report to them of the occurrence that followed. Gompers met Brandenburg, the report says, under the advice and suggestion of other officials of the American Federation of Labor. Brandenburg, it says, represented himself as in charge of a bureau of the National Association of Manufacturers, organizing to expose the immorality of and dishonesty of the leaders in the labor movement.

Tries to Bribe Gompers.
According to his report, Gompers led Brandenburg on until the latter proposed that Gompers should prepare a general statement in the nature of a confession; should stand for re-election as president of the American Federation of Labor in 1908; and then should resign, leaving the federation crippled by his retirement and the exposure of leaders.

"My object in coming to you is to say I want to save you," Brandenburg is quoted as saying. "I want to save you while I don't want to expose in specific financial terms what the National Association of Manufacturers is willing to do, yet I can guarantee that you will be financially safe for the balance of your life."

The Gompers report states that the interview terminated there, that Gompers kept the paper Brandenburg had prepared for him to sign and that Vice President Duncan and other officials of the Federation were acquainted with the circumstances.

President Gompers and other officials of the Federation are expected to testify before the senate committee that the alleged activities of the lobbyists bore directly upon national legislation.

Both John Kirby Jr. and D. M. Parry were in San Francisco and were expected to testify before the committee. They wired Chairman Overman asking to be excused from testifying before the senate committee now, but promised to appear on their return in several months. They wired it would cost them about $3,000 each to change their plans. Chairman Overman today wired the two men, directing that they hold themselves in readiness to appear.

Representative Sherley of Kentucky, mentioned in the Mulhall charges as one the manufacturers could count on to support certain measures, today secured from Senator Overman permission to appear before the lobby committee tomorrow. Sherley said he would introduce in the house a resolution for an investigation by a special committee.

Lewis Cass Ledyard, Paul Cravath and Mark Everts, New York attorneys, and David Lamar, a Wall Street operator, have accepted telegraphic summonses to appear before the committee tomorrow. The work of the lobbyists on Wall Street, where names of congressmen have been used over the telephone in connection with demands upon railroads and financial officials, will be the subject of the hearings.

KIRBY AND PARRY ANSWER.

Will Return to Appear Before the Lobby Probe.

San Francisco, July 1.—"Broughton Brandenburg was never in the employ of the National Association of Manufacturers." This was the reply today of John H. Kirby, Jr., former president of the association, when he was shown dispatches from Washington reporting the charges made there by Samuel

THIS IDEA IS FALSE

Vitalitas is Not Mineral Water, but is Stuff Nature Makes Mineral Waters Out Of.

"I thought I would have to take a few barrels of this to get any benefit out of it," said an elderly man who was making his first investigation of Vitalitas at the Powers-Kelly drug store.

"I have been to lots of watering places for my health and the rule usually was to drink all you could hold from morning to night."

Many people get the idea because Vitalitas comes out of the ground that it is a mineral water. That is error. It is the living essences out of which nature makes mineral waters. One teaspoonful of Vitalitas in a half glass of water contains the natural forces of many gallons of the best mineral water in the world.

There is only one known spot on the earth in which a strata bearing the remarkable properties of Vitalitas is brought to near the surface. It is the opinion of scientists that the famous Carlsbad waters receive their impregnation from some similar strata deep in the earth.

So far as known, the shortest cut to health that nature has given to diseased humanity is in the use of Vitalitas. Some might get the same results by going into the country, living the simple life close to nature. Others find relief in prolonged stays at the great watering places. Vitalitas will do for you at home in quicker time, more than watering places or the simple life can. It makes those expedients unnecessary. It supplies direct the best curative forces and properties that nature has provided. It puts new vitality into every weakened portion of the body. It drives away such disorders as indigestion, rheumatism, biliousness, catarrh, eczema, impotency, bowel troubles and the like.

Vitalitas is sold under a guarantee. It is free of harmful ingredients and every drop of it does you good. It is pleasant to take. See the display today and talk to the Vitalitas man at the Powers-Kelly drug store, corner Fifth and Austin.—Adv.

President at Sea
for Three Days

Washington, July 1.—Off for a real holiday of seventy-two hours, President Wilson is tonight aboard the yacht Mayflower somewhere in Lower Chesapeake Bay. No attempt has been made to keep the yacht in touch with Washington by wireless and even the White House officials do not know the executive's exact whereabouts. The last word was received this afternoon when the Mayflower was reported steaming down the bay.

When he started away this morning the president left all his official cares behind and expected to keep the nation's business out of his mind until he returned Thursday evening.

Women Rejoice in Chicago.
Chicago, July 1.—Chicago women celebrated the winning of the ballot today when 12,000 women representing a score or more of societies active in obtaining the passage of the women's suffrage bill, paraded Michigan avenue in gaily decorated automobiles. The bill granting equal suffrage to women for all statutory offices became a law today.

The line of parade was indicated by young women bearing yellow pennants and the cars were gay with yellow banners and yellow balloons.

CITY LIMITS TO

SO SAY THE CHARTER WRITERS
WHEN CHALKING A

RANDLE HAS IN PROTEST

Some Tracts Ought to Be Left Outside—Brings in Joe Taylor on South Side.

Limits for the city of Waco to be incorporated in the new charter that the revising committee is now working upon were mapped out and "settled" at the Tuesday night meeting of the board.

Although lines of demarcation were penciled and voted favorably upon by members of the committee, the limits will not "stick." At the time of voting Peyton Randle was the only committee member to protest the bringing in of certain tracts, but when adjournment was made at 11 o'clock the stand-pat for the limits at the original vote had become wobbly, and swayed to another consideration.

According to the ruling last night, the new city limits will be as follows: Beginning at the east bank of the Brazos river, the line proceeds in a southerly direction, skirting the southern edge of the D. R. Gurley tract, clipping the western part of the E. J. Gurley tract, again skirting the lower edge of the D. R. Gurley tract, thence across the "Sap" railroad running flush with the southeastern edge of the M. A. Blocker strip to a point where it would strike Sixteenth street, if extended, turning northward, the line would run up Sixteenth street, if extended; it turns off and runs westward on Speight to Twenty-ninth street, if extended, and along Twenty-ninth to Clay; the line runs along this street for half a block; then turning northwest skirting the D. R. Gurley tract on Twenty-ninth to Bosque Boulevard. This brings the Higginson tract in the city. The Cameron ranch and door factory is left outside. Turning down Bosque Boulevard a block northeast, the limits run up Twenty-eighth street to a point approximately a block beyond block 16 of Farwell Heights; thence northeast to a point that would be the middle of the block above block 25 of Farwell Heights, east to the river, including Cameron Park in the limits.

Going down the river bank on the east side to Brook avenue, extending the line runs across the J. E. Davis homestead to about five blocks on the other side of Paul Quinn College, thence northeast to a point four or five blocks on the other side of block 34 of division 81, turning here runs southwest to the bank of the river, thence it would strike the new cemetery, if this plot extended across the stream. It then runs down the river bank on the eastern side to the place of beginning.

City Engineer Byars was present during the discussion, having brought up a marked city map to show the changes.

Peyton Randle opposed taking in the Gurley tracts, saying that they were nothing more than "bottom" farming lands.

Forest Goodman believed that the Hunco club should be included. Home owners, he said, should not have to pay a tax, while a luxury went Scott-free. He declared that the club derived its benefit from the city and should repay the city in part.

By the time of adjournment several opinions were wobbling, and it was delicately understood that a new vote was to be taken to again fix the limits.

Following the boundary question, routine matters were taken up.

City Treasurer
It was decided that the section affecting the treasurer of the city of Waco, and the office of city auditor should be left open for further investigation. The motion was made by Randle, all voting to carry it with the exception of L. Mikel.

The power of the city over public service concerns was so written in the proposed ordinance to be delegated in full. It will be supreme save where it interferes with legislative and constitutional rights.

Randle moved that the commissioners be given power to build and maintain public service institutions subject to popular vote. This was carried and Attorney Surratt was instructed to draw it up for incorporation.

The question arose when the matter of piping gas from Mexico was raised.

"I assume," said Chairman McCullum, who occupied the chair last night for the first time in two weeks, "I assume that you are not doing this to hold a stick over the gas company."

"No, not at all," returned Randle; "I have no desire to interfere with them; I know that the company holds the key to the situation. I want to see the deal go through."

Question of Taxation.
The struggle over the taxation provisions was long, and at times edged on the loud.

It was settled that the city shall have the right to levy franchise taxes upon corporations.

The provision providing that companies securing charters shall in addition to the yearly tax pay 2 per cent of their gross receipts to the city was tabled for future examination.

A deficiency clause was inserted that should the money on hand for any one year fail to meet the year's expenses that the city commissioners may incorporate in the next budget the deficiency. However, the amount must not exceed $50,000 and some provision for paying it must be made.

Ad valorem taxes shall fall due October 1, with time limit for paying until March 1. If unpaid after this date, a 10 per cent penalty is provided. Poll taxes not to exceed more than half of the state poll tax are provided for. The limit is 60 cents.

Dr. Warsaw on Charities.
During the session of the board, Dr. I. Warsaw urged that provision be made for a charity board to govern all philanthropy.

He stated that considerable funds had been collected by people in the past, who represented themselves as working for charity and when the time came for a settlement, neither the money nor the collectors materialized. Too, he said, the collections are being made for institutions under the plea of charity, when the institutions are to be conducted for purposes opposed to right.

This matter will be looked into by the board, and it is probable that a provision will be made.

At this point, both Chairman McCullum and Committee Chairman Gramling expressed themselves in favor of a municipal hospital.

Building Inspector.
Gramling urged that provision be made for a building code, and that the offices of building inspector and fire marshal be combined. He wants it specified that no one shall be qualified for this position except a technical man. No action was taken.

Provision will later be made for trained inspectors for service in the health department. It was intimated that changes would be made in the present rules governing the board of health.

It was decided that until the routine matters are whipped into shape no outside business or petitions will be considered. The board meets again Thursday night.

BAPTISTS PROPOSE SANITARIUM

that does not establish a sanitarium will be left behind in religious work.

Dr. D. R. Prevoto.

Dr. D. R. Prevoto was next introduced by the chairman, and spoke of the financial side of a sanitarium. He said the figures taken from the actual operating expenses of the institution at Houston and showed in answer to a query given him as a subject, that "A Baptist sanitarium can pay current running expenses." All secular and religious enterprises have their business side, and good religion is good business, he said. He advised that the building should receive careful attention and be planned by the best architect available and one who understood the problems of efficiency and management in a hospital. The lives saved, the suffering relieved and the gospel practiced would be an immense dividend if no financial surplus was accumulated, he said. "We must exemplify the love of the Savior that we preach, and in no other manner is the co-operation of the preacher, doctor and business man secured as in building and operating a sanitarium," he said.

Dr. W. H. Mayfield.

Dr. W. H. Mayfield, who is prominent as a sanitarium leader in the entire denomination, was introduced with complimentary words on his life, devoted to the cause of religion and humanity, by Dr. Barton. He spoke on his experience as a religious sanitarium promoter. Dr. Mayfield went into a detailed history of his experience in building an institution for a small and discouraging beginning many years ago to one of the greatest in the country at present, and told how he was now interested in assisting in building a great chain of similar institutions over the entire world. He complimented the aggressive enthusiasm of Texans and the state with its great opportunities. He said that a sanitarium was built on a religious foundation as a starter, and if it was promoted by men who had plenty of "spunk and were warm footed," it would succeed. He stressed the great chance for religious work in a sanitarium.

Three Minute Talks.

The meeting was thrown open for three-minute talks and a number of men responded, among whom were Rev. P. H. Faulk, Dr. H. T. Ainsworth, Dr. H. F. Connally, President S. P. Brooks, Dr. Carl Lovelace, Dr. F. C. McConnell, Dr. F. J. Alexander, E. R. Nash, Sr., and Prof. J. L. Kesler. The gist of the discussions was that no institution launched in Waco would mean more as an enterprise for good than the sanitarium; that it would in no way interfere with any existing institution, but would be a mutual help. Dr. Brooks said that he heartily endorsed the project and was relying upon the committee to work out a sane and business financial program.

Keeler Voices Keynote.
Professor John L. Kesler of Baylor University used an expression in his brief talk that was endorsed as the true spirit of the undertaking when he declared "it is not an enterprise for Baptists, but a Baptist enterprise for every single individual that can be helped—a great co-operative move with Waco as its center."

When the matter came to a vote after two and a half hours of serious discussion, every man present rose in response to the motion and with solemn bowed heads, brief petition for divine approval was made by Rev. J. B. Riddle.

The general committee that has had the matter under advisement for several years, consisting of fifteen men, representing the Baptists all over this section. In addition, there is an active sub-committee composed of men of Waco. Dr. A. J. Barton is chairman of both committees, and as associates on the committee of local men are: E. R. Nash, Jr., John F. Rowe, R. L. Strubling and W. J. Mitchell.

Banquet Every Two Months.
Growing out of the meeting as a result of the obvious advantages of having a gathering of representative Baptist men, it was decided to have an informal banquet every two months.

Dr. H. F. Connally was appointed as chairman of a committee consisting of members representing every Baptist church in the city to work out a plan for the meetings.

Some of Those Present.
Among those present at the meeting were the following: Dr. W. H. Mayfield, Houston; Dr. A. J. Barton, E. F. Drake, Dr. H. T. Ainsworth, W. B. Riddle, Dr. R. Prevoto, Houston; Dr. S. P. Brooks, Dr. F. C. McConnell, Dr. Carl Lovelace, E. R. Nash, Sr., E. M. Dotson, J. C. F. Kyser, F. J. Harrell, J. D. Harlow, W. H. Davis, Tom Blackman, Dr. H. T. Ainsworth, Melton, Harry Caldwell, H. V. Barrett, E. R. Nash, Jr., T. H. Claypool, Rev. B. E. Bryan, Prof. W. H. Pool, C. W. Davis, W. M. Brantley, W. H. Whipple, E. R. Marshall, C. B. Whitman, Rev. P. H. Faulk, Dr. J. O. Halbart, Dr. E. W. Wright, Prof. J. W. Harrell, W. Provencher, Prof. J. L. Kesler, Harlan J. Matthews.

Ladies Who Served Banquet.
The following ladies had charge of the arrangements of the banquet and were present during the discussions: Mrs. J. G. Smith, Mrs. J. C. Lattimore, Mrs. E. F. Drake, Mrs. W. H. Pool, J. K. Goehs, Mrs. J. R. Davis, Mrs. J. L. Houghton, Mrs. A. J. Barton, Miss Landis Barton and Miss Susie McKinney.

Gill Goes to Seaboard Bank.
New York, July 1.—It was announced today that B. L. Gill, formerly commissioner of banking of the state of Texas, has been elected vice president of the Seaboard National bank of this city.

FINANCES OF A YEAR

UNCLE SAM CLOSING BOOKS WITH A SURPLUS OF RECEIPTS.

Not Counting Canal and Public Debt.
New Form of Treasury Statement.

Washington, July 1.—Uncle Sam closed the fiscal year 1913 with a surplus of $40,693,229, representing that excess of receipts over expenditures, exclusive of Panama canal and public debt transactions. This exceeds last year's surplus by $2,750,000. The Panama canal expenditures and public debt transactions, however, wiped out the surplus of ordinary receipts over ordinary expenditures and created a deficit for the year of $2,149,000.

Total receipts for the fiscal year amounted to $723,782,981, while the ordinary disbursements were $683,699,692. Corporation taxes yielded the government $34,948,870 or $5,365,76 more than during the fiscal year 1912. Custom receipts for the fiscal year reached $318,142,000, an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over the previous year.

The drinking and smoking of the American people in the last twelve months brought the federal government the enormous total of $309,478,000 in internal revenue receipts, which was $6,500,000 greater than in 1912.

Under the first year's operations of the new pensions law the government paid veterans and widows $175,134,000, an increase of $21,837,000.

The fiscal year closed with $164,704,000 in the general fund of the treasury, as compared with $167,152,000 a year ago. The cash drawer of the treasury contains $65,253,000 as the working balance of the government. The balance of the treasury in gold and bullion, $1,086,727,000 in gold coin and bullion.

Spent on Panama Canal.
The government spent $41,741,000 on construction of the Panama Canal in the past year. The mints coined during the year $37,147,000, of which $29,000,000 was in gold. The 7,492 national banks now in existence have a total outstanding circulation of national bank notes of $737,065,050.

Secretary McAdoo tonight announced that the daily treasury statement in the future would be issued in a completely revised and redesigned form at a glance the assets and liabilities of the government. It will be in the nature of a budget statement, indicating from day to day whether the government revenues are progressing on a surplus or deficit basis. The first issue of the new statement will appear tomorrow, and will show, the secretary said, the grand total of assets of the government is nearly $2,000,000,000 against which there are liabilities, including the gold and silver certificates aggregating about $1,725,000,000, leaving balances in the treasury from $250,000,000 to $275,000,000, including the gold reserve of $15,000,000.

TWO-CENT FARE IS ON.
Railroads Agree on the Lower Passenger Rate.

Kansas City, July 1.—The two-cent passenger rate will be effective in Missouri on the Chicago and Alton, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the Wabash railroads at one minute past midnight tonight. The Missouri Pacific and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific will also make a two-cent rate between Kansas City and St. Louis at the same time to meet this reduction.

At 12:01 a. m. on July 4, the two-cent rate will become effective on all other lines in Missouri. These announcements followed a meeting here today of railroad officials and the Missouri public utilities commission. The announcement also was made that the Chicago and Alton would reduce its freight rates tonight. Other roads operating in Missouri will lower their freight rates between now and July 15.

WOMEN IN COURT TODAY.
No Action Against Inmates of North Second Street Houses.

Although the seventeen women arrested yesterday morning on North Second street by police officers and police officers appeared at the police station yesterday, no direct charges of liquor law violation were made against them. They were instructed to appear again this morning, when definite action will be taken.

The prosecutors spent some time investigating the law at the court house, with the idea of filing charges in the county court.

A Solar Trust.
(Trust Herald.)
A Solar Trust to study the sun has been formed. A few weeks ago an inconspicuous little dispatch from New Zealand announced that Miss Mary Proctor had succeeded in linking the solar observatories throughout the world into a co-ordinate and co-operative group. Miss Proctor, who is the daughter of the famous English astronomer, Richard A. Proctor, has devoted years to this project. Since the death of her father in New York some years ago she has worked steadily to the end which has now been made possible by the donation of $60,000 by Thomas Cawthron Nelson for the establishment of a solar physics observatory in New Zealand.

To each of the great solar observatories of the world a special field of work will be assigned, and the results compiled in such a way as to put the findings of the scientists in a more complete and comprehensive form than ever before. Of this great work the United States will have an important and interesting part, for one of the world's best solar observatories is that maintained by the Carnegie Institute of Washington on one of the twin peaks of Mt. Wilson, California.

Editor's Right to
Business Concerns

New York, July 1.—A newspaper has a legal right to expose a business firm's methods, provided motives of it publishers "are open to the belief that they are in good faith exposing those who are overreaching the simple and abusing the confidence of the credulous."

This was the opinion handed down today by Federal Judge Hand, denying a motion by the E. A. Strout farm agency for an injunction restraining the Rural Publishing company from publishing threats to expose the plaintiff's business methods and from writing letters to the firm's customers.

"While editors are not exempt from the common motives of other men," wrote Judge Hand, "they may, and in this case they do entertain a general desire to help their readers and expose such as may practice upon their credulity. That is a very admirable purpose in a newspaper. The refusal of the plaintiffs' advertising long before this controversy became acute is a corroboration of that motive."

ALL GOES FOR HAYS.

Democratic Committee is Partisan on Every Vote.

Little Rock, July 1.—After an all-day session, devoted principally to sparring between attorneys for Geo. W. Hays and Stephen Brundidge, the Arkansas Democratic state central committee made little progress in deciding the progress of Mr. Brundidge against the committee's certifying Judge Hays as the Democratic nominee for governor.

On every vote the Brundidge supporters were beaten with machine-like precision and it was generally conceded that the committee will certify Judge Hays as the nominee. The Brundidge supporters, it is expected, will then enjoin the secretary of state from placing Judge Hays' name on the ballot.

The committee will resume its deliberations tomorrow.

Home Rule Charter.
Cleveland, Ohio, July 1.—By a majority of two to one, the voters of Cleveland today decided to adopt a "home rule" charter recently drawn up by a commission of fifteen of which Mayor Baker was chairman. The new charter places the control of municipal affairs almost completely in the hands of the mayor and councilmen, the only elective officers provided for.

Deaths and Burials.
Charles Racunio.
The funeral of Charles Racunio, aged 67 years, for a long time a citizen of Waco, will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Church of the Assumption. Burial will be had in Holy Cross.

Racunio died Tuesday at midnight in Fort Worth, where he went from Waco three years ago. For many years he was a citizen here, maintaining a fruit stand at the corner of Sixth and Austin.

Three sons survive, Joe Racunio of Fort Worth, Ben Racunio of Waco and John Racunio of Dallas.

The body will arrive at noon today.

Mrs. Ida Wilson.
Mrs. Ida Wilson, 22 years old, died last night at 7 o'clock at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. C. Terry, 803 Vermont street. The body will be shipped to Richmond Springs today, where burial will be made.

She is survived by her mother, a sister and an infant.

Personal Mention.
Dr. W. B. Georgia was called to Fort-toria, Ohio, yesterday by a telegram advising him of the illness of his mother. He will be absent two weeks or more.

BLAZE IN BAKER BUILDING.
Discovered by James Baker, Night Watchman—Damage $50.

Fire was discovered at 1:30 o'clock this morning on the second floor of the Baker building, occupied by the Times-Herald, by James Baker, night watchman. Quick work by the fire department limited the damage to about $50.

The fire was found in one of the lavatories, where it probably started from a cigarette carelessly thrown to the paper-strewn floor.

All of the fire companies with the exception of Nos 5, 6 and 7, answered.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR FOR THIS WEDNESDAY

The Young Married Ladies' Euchre club plays with Mrs. Charles Hamilton on Austin avenue, 4 o'clock.

There is a called meeting of the board of directors for the Evangelia Settlement at the Settlement house at 10 o'clock.

The regular weekly dance takes place at the Country club.

The Merry Matrons meet with Mrs. T. W. Robertson at 4 o'clock.

DANCE AT FISH POND ON TUESDAY EVENING

Another of the pleasant informal outings among the college crowd took place at the Fish Pond on Tuesday evening. This was altogether informal, and included a congenial company to enjoy the club pleasures of dance and boat.

BOWLING AT THE HUACLO IS BECOMING POPULAR

During these summer mornings a party of the society girls has been making frequent trips out for bowling at the Huaclo club. On Tuesday morning Mrs. Hoke of West Washington called in a few to enjoy the hour with her guests, Mrs. McBride and Miss McBride, from Missouri. The presence of these visitors has been inspiration to a continuous round of informal pleasure. On Tuesday there were out Mrs. B. G. McKie with the Misses McKie, Anne Risher, Maydee Caulfield and Monette Colgin.

CARDS WITH MRS. WITTE AT THE HUACLO CLUB

The Young Married Ladies' bridge club felt that it was fortunate in having its last game of the season under the agreeable conditions and with such an affable hostess. In this Mrs. W. S. Witte entertained three tables of the club out at the Huaclo club. The substitute hands were played by the Mesdames W. M. Kelly, B. K. Jennings, Carter Brockenbrough and Harold Shear. The two first won the prizes, a set of fancy handkerchiefs and a piece of Royal Doulton. During the passage of a salad plate the ou revoir for the season were made. There are to be more games until cool weather.

THE BOUDOIR CAP ABUSED IT HAS ITS USE

When the jaunty little boudoir cap first came into existence among the women of fashion, it fulfilled the want of something slightly to cover the hair in curling kids. The woman wished to appear neat at the breakfast table; she also had the desire to be attractive in the morning hours before the hair was arranged for the more formal luncheon and afternoon function. All manner of pretty cap device came, and it was altogether becoming. But, like every good thing, even with a tiny fashion, this was abused. The women who are not fashion's leaders, not understanding, began to automobile in the boudoir cap. Realizing that it is a becoming adjunct to the toilet, we began to see them on the verandas as a feature in afternoon dress. We have even seen them in the shopping district. Then, the boudoir cap, so abused as it was, became a thing of the past with the really well dressed woman. Let us revive it, for it is jaunty and becoming. But let us keep it in its place, not only in the home, but in the interior rooms.

MR. AND MRS. G. B. ADAMS OPEN THEIR NEW HOME

In special courtesy to the members of the Morrow Street Missionary society, together with a few personal friends, Mrs. G. B. Adams opened her handsome new home out on Provident Heights on Monday evening. This home, one of the most attractive in its neighborhood, was designed by Mrs. Adams, and when her hundred guests had been shown over it during Monday evening each had some compliment for the taste, the convenience and the elegance with which the end came. Mr. Adams was the general host to welcome more husbands of the society members than had ever before assembled. The spacious porch, with its wealth of sunflowers was the gathering point for fun, games, music and refreshments. Mrs. R. L. Abbott had devised some clever puzzles and games which broke all formality. Music was informally given in veranda concert, those contributing being Miss Margaret Adams, Mr. Shaeffer, Miss Clara Bruyere and Mrs. J. A. Pipkin. Several out-of-town guests were introduced. The evening was a success from every viewpoint.

MISS MARTHA CARNELL HAS PLEASING AU REVOIR

During her pleasant visit with Mrs. Martha Carnell on South Fifth, Miss Ashley Chappell made many friends. They were invited by the Misses Mary Hester, Allah Hester and Hattie Hartigan for a last evening with Miss Carnell. The always jolly bunch was selected as the introductory diversion. But really this was only the deception, for it was for Miss Carnell to receive genuine surprise. First off all, she retains as her reminder of Texas and the new Texas friends a souvenir album with the photograph of the guests of this evening. Also she has a personal gift. This came in a decorated wheelbarrow with little Miss Louise Hester at the helm. The yellow and white Shasta daisy was the decorative device. The gifts were beautifully varied and quite overwhelmed their recipient with appreciation. The yellow and white of the daisy was carried through every detail of this party affair. Even the refreshments gave daisy patronage. The daisy as flower was used freely. Those who enjoyed the pleasure of this au revoir are Misses Helen Houston, Dee Myers, Hattie Jamison, Lillie Bonner, Louise Elliott, Nell Farmer, Ethel Banner, Mozelle Rast, Ruth Norman, Hazel Doyle, Marguerite Rast, Esther Lee Smith, Cornelia Schuler, Ethel Leftwich, Pearl Worth, am, Virgie Damon; Mesdames Glen Jones, Henry Reeves of Fort Worth, Harlan Hester and A. C. Chappell.

HAVE PRACTICAL MEMORIAL SOMETHING BENEFICIAL

In the News of Tuesday was the notice that friends of the late Mr. Maxwell were taking steps towards a memorial, a tribute from his many friends in Texas. Furthermore, mention was made that this would be a likelihood take the form of a public drinking fountain properly inscribed. How appropriate. The time is here for sentiment to prevail. The shaft of marble is all right, but why not make it a never ceasing pleasure in affording comfort for man and beast, wool on as marble lasts? The reclamation of Riverside Spring. How much more practical, at the same time appropriate, is this life-giving flow of pure water, than if a monument were erected to the spot. Without in any way detracting from the spirit of love and veneration which prompted the Burleson statue on Baylor university campus, could not this, with more have marked the memory of this man had the base of this statue been arranged for the flow of water? Thirty students going to and from classes would have paused oftener, and would have more often read the inscription as cup of cold water was quaffed. By all means have the memorials, but, in having them make something practical, something which will give comfort and pleasure.

This is said in anticipation of two or three plans which are afoot among the women, for slabs and a monument in this city. We say, go right ahead. There can never be too many recollections of heroic men and women. The lesson taught the youth for generations to come is well worth the effort of erecting. But remember, when this is done, that the dead can be more fitly memorialized by the kindly thought of the living. Make the memorials altogether practical. Parks, beds in hospitals, drinking fountains for man and beast, free baths, there are countless ways in which memorials are today given.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB ISSUES A NEW YEAR BOOK

For their twenty-first year the Woman's club has arranged a course of systematic study. These twenty-five women are a peculiarly congenial body, and their study is ever in line with the spirit of the hour. The title for the study course during 1913-1914 is "The Drama, Drama, and Poetry of Today." The change is radical from the past year of sociological movements, and a course of heavy reading. Yet the culture and the general touch with affairs of the moment in literature is altogether desirable. The usual preliminaries are in the new year book, that of stating time of organization, federation, both state and national, the motto and such. The roster of officers presents as president Mrs. G. E. Arbuckle, vice president, Mrs. John G. Kendall, recording secretary, Miss Grace Prather, corresponding secretary, Mrs. William McCall, treasurer, Mrs. Albert Wells, and auditor, Mrs. H. C. Black. While the subject is present day, the quotation selected for the heading of each afternoon program follows the thoughts of older masters, Tennyson, Browning and other standards. Fiction along the line of social problems, realism, psychology among fiction writers, are some of the introductory topics, all these of these great writers. The American novelist as represented by Mary Johnston, John Fox and Elizabeth Robinson as types of American fiction. The short story, which takes prominent place in writings of today, is assigned for one afternoon. Several of these pieces will be under review. On the club birthday, which is always a social session, will come a play to be presented by the club members. This is the transition from fiction to drama. Brieux is the first of the dramatists to be reviewed, emphasizing place in the "Drama of Good." The technique of the drama is to be exposed and poetic drama brings under discussion Percy Mackaye's "Canterbury Pilgrims." The German dramatists will have an afternoon. Suderman being taken for the theme of modern tragedy. The coming into the literary limelight will be acknowledged. American dramatists and the American stage will be reviewed and discussed. The year closes with two afternoons on the present poets. This is especially timely in the acclamation now noticed, as to how far poetry will come back to its former popularity. Quite an exhaustive bibliography is contained in the year book.

One feature is the memorial page to one of the most zealous of the Woman's club members, a past president, and always a faithful worker, the late Mrs. Maribel Curran Thompson. The tender lines of James Whitcomb Riley's "Away" are used for the memorial thought.

The members of the Woman's club at present are Mesdames O. E. Arbuckle, Llewellyn Aubrey, H. C. Black, William Breunstedt, Charles Boynton, Ermine Carrington, W. E. Darden, J. R. Ferrell, J. Arch Gamel, John G. Kendall, Ben Gray Kendall, J. L. Kester, J. W. Hale, J. R. Milam, H. B. Minter, William McCall, Edward Rotan, John Sleeper, W. O. Wilkes, A. E. Wells, with Misses Susie Jones, Grace Prather, Ada Risher and Minnie Taylor.

One feature in this year book is well worthy the following: With the exception of the Shakspeare club, who has followed the practice with untold convenience, none of the clubs has used the street address and the telephone number in connection with the club roster. The convenience of reaching members with this data listed cannot be estimated.

We are in earnest about the laxity of the Waco presidents of social clubs showing the proper courtesy to the debutante. The president is the host of the club. ## HARDLY THE REMEDY.

It was at least gratifying that the attack Senator Fall of New Mexico voiced in the senate lately on the policy of this nation toward the Mexican trouble should result in bestirring the attention of that body to loose conditions on the border. But what Mr. Fall has to suggest by way of change is hardly the remedy, as we understand the situation. We would not open the border towns to the shipment of arms alike to the Huerta forces and the Carrancistas, instead of laxly permitting—or overlooking—the “federal” faction, so-called, to obtain munitions through American states and shutting down on the insurgents by virtue of our precious “neutrality” resolution, as has been the case since Madero was murdered. It has been a world-noticed anomaly that this nation should refuse recognition as a government to the assassins of Mexico's rulers, but should be unable, apparently, to prevent the usurpers of constitutional government from fortifying their arms through this country.

If we are to give any semblance of genuineness to the “neutrality” strictly aloof attitude Washington insists on, be conditions over the border never so serious in the phases that directly affect this country, it seems to us the only way is to put a stop, for all purposes of this warfare, to the use of border states as supply stations for arms and ammunition by both sides. Impartially. We have no criticism to make of Senator Fall's facts, for they are facts, and we join in his applause of the administration for refusing recognition, as a government, to the vicious dictatorship, but we think it is not the part of this nation to serve as the arsenal from which the factions in Mexico shall draw the means of civil annihilation. Either let a neutral position be rigidly enforced or let the nations finally act to stop the further disruption of its neighbor. Senator Bacon's opinion, that the solution of present difficulties lies in Mexico's educated classes taking up arms to establish order, is widely held, but that the solution is likely to eventuate is not generally believed. Mexico City by all signs, is unwilling to imperil itself in the battle line to continue the Huerta regime. And there is significance in the way Mr. Bacon—supposed to be speaking for the administration. It was reported—put the problem of intervention: “For the United States to attempt to protect her citizens by arms in Mexico means intervention and occupation probably for all time.” Since none sees any chance of protection for our citizens in Mexico except it be by arms, this country must continue to understand its government will continue to let affairs in Mexico run their course with no official attention from us, apparently, unless our citizens in the bloody country shall be killed or injured by wholesale as well as damaged in their means, by wholesale.

But we venture that those who believe sincerely that the only hope for peace in Mexico is in intervention, see in Mr. Fall's suggestion that we repeal the neutrality resolution a project to hasten intervention; for with Huertistas and constitutionalists adequately armed conditions in Mexico speedily would reach that stage wherein safety of all Americans in the country and safety of border regions of this nation, would be impossible without armed interference.

The women, formerly of Texas, who are officers of the Texas Club of California are appealing, by printed circular, to the people of this state and “to its general sentiment for an active movement towards a worthy Texas building at the Panama-Pacific Universal Exposition at San Francisco in 1915.” This state's constitution prohibits appropriation of state funds to be used without the state and popular subscription, it appears, is the only way funds can be obtained to build and equip Texas's house at this world's fair. Popular subscriptions have had but little success in this state, as we remember, except for humanitarian purposes; it was no easy pull raising $50,000 even for a presidential campaign last year. But we hope this movement to give Texas proper showing at the exposition will prove an exception. Its farmers, business men, manufacturers and all other lines of organizations certainly should be able to raise the money. None needs to be told how great a publicity opportunity this is. “As the largest state in the union,” these native Texans write, “Texas, whose commercial activities will be greatly augmented by the opening of the Panama canal, should have a building commensurate with her advance in commerce, manufactures, agriculture, transportation facilities.” Well, commensurate with the first three, at least. That is sound. Such a building for Texas is a matter of pride, of course, but it is incalculably more a matter of business for the state. Our sellers' associations in every line that are dilating on the advantages the canal will bring Texas should busy themselves soon on this worthwhile project.

We have long expected the resignation of Hon. Bennett Lloyd Gill, of Terrell, from the office of commissioner of the department of insurance and banking. Our only surprise is that he did not resign before. Patriotism that entails sacrifice of personal advantage, profit and opportunity for advancement in one's business is seldom compensated with the “glory” of public service, whether it be holding a state office or any other sort of office. But Mr. Gill has given Texas a notable share of such patriotism and the record of his public service stands out in the history not only of his own department, but of all service in state house offices. Since he was appointed—he has never sought public office—two and a half years ago he has been sought several times by big banks in other parts of the country. He is a life-long banker, is a banking expert to his finger tips. His all-important department has been conducted as a technical, business department of government should be conducted, along business lines—as a bank or an insurance office is conducted. No appointee of Gill's has been asked whom he voted for for governor. Competency and character have been the only qualifications Mr. Gill has insisted on. His knowledge, his method and his personality have given Texas nation-wide reputation for its insurance and banking department. Bankers, business men, state officials admire and trust Gill. He will receive in his New York position something more than double the salary Texas paid him. He has a family and he is ambitious for his family's comfort. Gill and the Seaboard National bank will benefit substantially. “Duty done is honor won.” We honor this state official who has done more than his duty.

EMIGRATION TO CANADA.

Last year 141,000 emigrants from the United States settled in Western Canada. Canadian government statistics supplemented by the reports of the railroads and colonization companies show that these took into Canada on the average $1000 each, a total drain from the United States of $141,000,000 in cash in one year, and an army of men, women and children of a high pioneering type, worth at their capitalized value, or earning power on a basis of 5 per cent, $340,000,000. In other words, the 141,000 emigrants represent 28,000 families of an average earning or producing power of $1,500 per year per family, which is 5 per cent on $30,000, the capitalized value per family. That makes up the $340,000,000, a fair and reasonable way to calculate the money value of human beings. This capital value, added to the cash taken away by the emigrants, makes a total of about $1,000,000,000 of real wealth or productive capital taken from the United States in a single year by emigrants to Western Canada.

Considering these figures, the Springfield (Mo.) Leader says the emigration last year was not exceptional or excessive. On the contrary, the record has been exceeded in some previous years. The movement to Canada from the United States, however, does not tend to slacken. The drain is steady, and tremendously heavy.

Besides the great drain of farming and industrial population there is another kind of capital withdrawal in progress that is becoming a serious drain on industrial capital and bids fair to create conditions in international trade not at all favorable to the United States. Owing to Canada's protective tariff, American manufacturers in numerous important lines are establishing branch factories in Canada. They take from the United States a few skilled men and specialists to organize the branch factories and establish their business, but they build up in the new communities their own local industrial body of workers. These Canadian factories not only supply the Canadian market and thus reduce or entirely stop American exports in those lines to Canada; but they also have certain advantages in British markets which the United States cannot enjoy, and thus still further diminish the export trade of American factories.

“The drain of population and capital from the United States to Canada is not really important enough as yet to be a great factor in American finance or industry, but it is the indication of a tendency that is worth careful study. The 141,000 persons who last year left the United States after selling all they possessed, and took up a new residence in Canada with their little capital in hand ready for new investment, did not comprise in any considerable degree those undesirable elements which the United States can get on well without. On the contrary, they were in large proportion farmers who had made a success and a little fortune in the United States, and were looking for a new location where things were still in the making, opportunities for advancement greater, and markets and industries not yet overcrowded.

“Generally speaking, it may be said that the emigration from the United States to Canada represented the movement of a class of people that would be welcomed in any community as a desirable addition to the producing population.”

“Louisville,” says the Fort Worth Record, and Texas's, Colonel Fitzgerald, “Louisville has a chief of police. His name is Lindsay and he has issued a blanket order for the arrest of wearers of silk skirts which are minus protective undergarments. Why shouldn't he issue a blanket order for the arrest of males who go about in overalls and jumpers without undergarments? ‘Legs is legs,’ Marse Henry Watterson, the most brilliant, as well as the most fascinating writer in American newspaperdom, calls Louisville his home. He should hand his crossroads constable, masquerading as chief of police, a package of Courier-Journal vitriol.” We, one the contrary, hope Mr. Lindsay will have his salary boosted and that his days will be long in the service. Lindsay knows—so does H. Nugent Fitzgerald—that if it were considered quite the usual, conventional, decent thing to let go these exposures, the style in undergarments never become popular. Lindsay says women who will thus perform will not mind a little thing like a police court trial. “How come,” as they say in Austin, a man with that ability to express his thoughts, and think, to be chief of police in Louisville?

Texas Viewpoints

O, the Doctors.

“If every doctor in Lamar county would give publicity to his views about the very urgent necessity for hospitals for the care and treatment of all contagious and infectious diseases,” says the Paris Advocate, “the ground would be broken for their construction in less than six months.” The Advocate doth expect too much, we think. What has every doctor to do with those so diseased whose financial condition would require they go to a public hospital for treatment? Are there not, to paraphrase Scrooge, city and county health officers and pesthouses or detention camps of a very rank sort?

Local.

Comanche Chief-Exponent paragraphs on the passing of June “teeth and states that it is needless to state the day was not celebrated in Comanche county. “Needless” is right. Nor have we heard of any jubilation in Hamilton county. Celebrating is one thing and irritating is something else again, as Abe Potash would say.

Aw, G'wan!

It is a curious opinion that holds, because of the operation of the 9:30 locking-up law, or the Allison law. Texans will not continue to want the stuff when they want it. This is the opinion of Brownwood Bulletin, that calls attention to the fact that the food and drug department at Austin is busily engaged in testing the product of the several Texas breweries “to learn whether or not the people are getting the genuine article. So far,” advises Bulletin, “as the people out this way are concerned the p. f. d. might save itself any unnecessary labor in this direction, for after July 1 the subject, or product, will in a measure cease to interest them.” Doubtless—in an half-pint measure or thereabouts. Considering that those regions of Texas where liquor is hardest to get appear to be the regions wherein it is wanted most, it is not easy to follow Bulletin's argument. And this being the case, the food department analysts will do well to maintain their surveillance and save the stomach even of the dry districts, thirsty in spite of the indifference of the thirsty.

Outrageous!

This Alice Echo may not have been so loud as to reach the sanctum of our second greatest port's morning daily, so we admit the desire to start something when we refer the following to Judge George McQuaid, surf bathing expert thereof: “We spent the week-end last week in Corpus Christi, where cabbage and real estate agents flourish, and while there took a dip in the Big Tub. None of them has anything on Corpus when it comes to surf bathing.” Echo probably thinks that the judge's, “G. H. T. B. S. B. I. T. W.” is merely code for the information of ships in the harbor.

General, As Well As Expert.

Major General Leonard Wood, in his Carnegie Institute of Technology address, said: “We know war is coming. It is arant nonsense to say that the day of war is over. Wars are not made by individuals, but by the pressure of public events. If there were war tomorrow the United States would need 16,000 trained officers to command 600,000 men, whereas we have only 4,000 officers prepared to command.” To which the Galveston Tribune replied: “It is to be deplored that the peculiar temperament of some individuals will so overshadow their judgment that they fall victims to the temptation of adding unwarranted color to their statements in the belief that it makes their argument more convincing. It is also to be regretted that some of us become so deeply infatuated with our own peculiar pursuits as to forget that it is not the same tremendously important issue to others that it is to us.”

Wood was giving us his view, which we must concede was somewhat expert. If this is to be charged up to professional disproportion and temperamental peculiarity we must concede that our only countrymen with balance are the teachers and preachers who warn against war and argue for disarmament, for the ranking officer of our army is not the only one to be heard from, and his is not the only profession whose members have been heard from, by any means, to the effect that this nation is glaringly unprepared for war. In declaring “war will come,” Wood at least has the facts of the presence of war and the nations' tremendous preparations against war, abroad, behind him.

France Answers Germany's Challenge.

(Boston Transcript.) On both sides of the Franco-German frontier preparations for military expansion are being rushed as if war were impending, whereas the end for which vastly increased armaments are proposed is the preservation of peace. In Germany the principle of the kaiser's army bill has been accepted by the Reichstag committee. Here and there a detail has been lopped off, the lopping being as much to demonstrate the power of the Reichstag as to reduce expenses. There will be reductions of the “horse allowance” for officers and the peace maximum may be a few thousands short of the kaiser's figures, but on the whole he will get nine-tenths of the loaf, which has been his way when in search of imperial bread.

In France the proposal to increase the term of service from two years to three has encountered so much opposition that many observers have expected at least a rally against militarism in the chamber of deputies. Yesterday's votes on the government's proposal demonstrate that the orators who deprecated lengthening the service with the colors must have spoken for a minority of the French people. A motion for “urgency” for the army bill was carried 381 to 189. A Socialist compromise for the conversion of the French army into a force similar to the Swiss national militia was rejected 498 to 72. If such triumphs had been won by a strong minority of solid majority, they would lose half their significance. They might be put down as simply evidence of a muzzled chamber, but Premier Barthou and his ministry is understood to be a stop-gap organization. It has had some very narrow escapes from utter wreck on questions not associated with national defence. Therefore when we find it winning victory after victory on the army bill, we may safely conclude that the government's military program is popular and that all parties save the extreme Socialists are united in the proposition that France must keep pace with the program of Germany.

Compulsory military service may not be popular in either Germany or France, but it is accepted as a public necessity in both countries. Probably the average German and the average Frenchman regard it very much as the average American regards jury service, as a requirement not welcome but certainly not to be shrined. The public good demands the sacrifice of the individual's convenience, time and comfort. What is not to be cured is to be endured, and must be said for the French and they endure cheerfully. Their cheerfulness is the more creditable to them because compulsory service imposes a heavier burden in France than in Germany. The population of Germany, 65,000,000, is at least 25,000,000 in excess of that of France. Such a difference implies a great advantage to Germany in the race of armaments. Germany has every year more recruits than it literally “knows what to do with.” The overflow escapes with nominal training. In France there is no overflow. All the “conscriptable matter” goes into the ranks, and in the stagnation of the French population the area of recruitment is diminishing. This is the condition which induced the government to revert to three years' service in place of the two-year term which in 1905 was thought ample for French military purposes. If France cannot obtain more men it will keep more men.

The Germans at Babylon. (Review of Reviews.) The excavation of Babylon is not yet completed. A good deal of the ancient city still lies beneath some forty or fifty feet of later ruins. The city being excavated by the Germans is chiefly the capital of Nebuchadnezzar. In fact, nothing preceding the time of Nebuchadnezzar has been found. That monarch boasted that he completely destroyed the first Babylon, throwing even its foundations into the river Euphrates. On one of the larger mounds known as Babil, Dr. Koeldewerf believes there stood the ancient structure known in the Bible as the Tower of Babel. The excavator has already revealed huge arches of passage ways leading through the ruins. These arches, modern scholars believe, once supported the famous Hanging Gardens. The explanation is that the overhanging foliage of different terraces gave the appearance of being suspended in the air.

The German zeal for investigation in this is undoubtedly due primarily to scholarship. In fact, funds for the work have been subscribed, as has already been said, by the Deutsche Orientgesellschaft. However, it may be that there is also a political motive behind the work. The ambition of the German government to dominate in the Near East is well known. When the Baghdad railroad is completed across the northern desert, which will be a triumph of German diplomacy and engineering skill, this land of vast mineral wealth, agricultural possibilities and ancient ruins may then become to all intents and purposes German territory.

From “The Crock of Gold.”

(James Stephens.) A secret is a weapon and a friend. Man is God's secret. Power is man's secret. His is woman's secret. A sword, a spade and a thought should never be allowed to rust. Quietness is the beginning of virtue. To be silent is to be beautiful. Stars do not make a noise. Right is a word and Wrong is a word, but the sun shines in the morning and the dew falls in the dust without thinking of these words. Young people are fools in their heads and old people are fools in their hearts, and they can only look at each other and pass by in wonder. An innocent man cannot be oppressed, for he is fortified by his mind and his heart cheers him. A man should always obey the law with his body and always disobey it with his mind. The Crown of Life is not lodged in the sun; the wise gods have buried it deeply where the thoughtful will not find it, nor the good; but the Gay God, the Adventurous Ones, the Careless Plunders, they will bring it to the wise and astonish them.

Only “Some of Us.”

We—all of us; that is, some of us—have been “poking fun” at Bob Henry's discovery in financial science. However, all people who know him were glad to read Mr. Lovett's statements in his praise. Texas knows Mr. Henry's integrity is incalculable.—Dallas Times-Herald.

Unhappiness is the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's accustomed lot whenever it works itself artificially into an ambition for the success of the Panthers in the Texas league. Ruminating on percentage politics, past and present, it tells the Waxahatchee Light that “not mentioning” places, there are some towns where it would be a good idea to let the business men play instead of the team.” But why trouble the business men? ## Summary of Charges Against Public Men As Included in the Columns of Type Published in Chicago.

In the Chicago Tribune and New York World last Sunday, M. M. Mulhall, former paid employee of the National Association of Manufacturers, published a signed statement of the work of that association in influencing legislation, in fighting labor organizations and in strike breaking. The expose covers about twenty-one columns of type in all and has proven a bombshell in official circles. Hurried denials are being made by men in public life, witnesses are going to Washington to testify and the lobby probe promises to be more extended than ever dreamed. The following is a summary of all the charges made by the Mulhall expose.

One—That the National Association of Manufacturers has a membership of 225 organizations, embracing 4,000 individuals members, employing more than 5,000,000 persons, and representing an approximate capital of $10,000,000,000, and claims to be a nonpolitical business and trade organization.

Two—That in reality this association has for more than ten years secretly played an important and generally decisive part in promoting tariff, labor and general business legislation favorable to its own interests.

Three—That, together with a “paper organization” called the National Council of Industrial Defense, it has maintained a lobby at Washington for the purpose of defeating all legislation hostile to its own interests.

Four—That for these purposes it has always sought, and often managed to secure, control of the committee on labor and the committee on the judiciary of both the senate and the house of representatives.

Five—That among the men whom the lobbyists of this association had dealings with, directly or indirectly, were:

The late Vice President Sherman. Former Senator Foraker of Ohio. Senator Nelson of Minnesota. Former Senator Hemenway of Indiana. Speaker Cannon. Congressman Dwight, the Republican “whip” of the house from 1905 to 1911. Former Congressman James E. Tawney of Minnesota. Former Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota (one of the Roosevelt “trailers,” his companion being John M. Harlan of Chicago). Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin.

Former Congressman J. G. Bealle of Pennsylvania. Former Congressman W. A. Calderhead of Kansas. Former Congressman Diekema of Michigan. Former Congressman M. A. Driscoll of New York.

Former Congressman G. J. Foster of Vermont. Former Congressman P. M. Fowler of New Jersey. Congressman Swager Shirley of Kentucky. Former Congressman J. A. Sterling of Illinois.

Former Congressman J. P. Swasey of Maine. Former Congressman Charles E. Littlefield of Maine. Governor W. T. Haines of Maine. Ambassador Myron T. Herrick of Ohio.

Ambassador Curtis Guild of Massachusetts. Congressman Richard Bartholdt of Missouri. Former Congressman Sidney Mudd of Maryland.

Six—That the National Association of Manufacturers was solely responsible for the creation of the tariff commission during the Taft administration, the object of the association being to lobby for a revision of the then existing tariff.

Seven—That the officials who received financial reward for services rendered or for political purposes from the National Association of Manufacturers while in office were:

(A) Former Congressman James E. Watson (Rep.); “whip” of the house of representatives from 1902 to 1905; Republican candidate for governor of Indiana in 1908; floor leader of the Republican national convention in Chicago in 1912; helped in the “let” of Indiana for Taft in 1912, and a favorite with the “standpat” Republicans for the nomination for president in 1904.

(B) Congressman James T. (C) Former Congressman John J. Jenkins (Rep.) of the Eleventh Wisconsin district, chairman of the judiciary committee of the house of representatives, 1904-5; defeated for re-nomination in the latter year when his campaign was openly financed by the lobby of the National Association of Manufacturers, and who received money through Colonel Mulhall, its agent, and Edward Hines of Lorimer fame during that campaign.

(F) Former Congressman Harry M. Hanson of Ohio (Rep.); acted as adviser of the N. A. M. lobby in the house of representatives and as secretary, agent, and handled money passing between the shoe manufacturers and disloyal strike leaders in the shoe strike at Portsmouth, O., in 1907; sought employment as lobbyist for the N. A. M. upon retirement.

(G) Former Congressman Harry M. Coudrey of Missouri (Rep.); acted as secret agent of the National Association of Manufacturers in the house of representatives, and accepted aid in campaign for re-election; accused of passing bad checks at Washington; indicted at St. Louis for fraudulent use of the mails; received on $10,000 bail after being sentenced to four years and six months in prison; now in New York City conducting an exchange business.

(H) Former Congressman J. Y. Gardner (Rep.) of New Jersey, chairman of the committee on labor in 1902-11; started to organize the N. A. A. M.

(I) H. H. Michaels, chief of pages in the house of representatives and principal spy of the N. A. M. on the undertakings and movements of members; afterward transferred to attend door at the press gallery of the press gallery of the house of representatives, and now serving as elevator operator in the capitol.

Eight—That the lobby staff of the National Association of Manufacturers during the last ten years embraced the following persons:

(K) Thomas Littlepage, former secretary of Senator Hemenway of Indiana, with offices on the sixth floor of the Union Trust building in Washington, adjoining those maintained by Emery, chief of the N. collector of campaign and labor funds.
(C) Edward Hines, head of the lumber lobby, celebrated for "putting Lewin over" as United States senator from Illinois, from which office he was dismissed in disgrace; handled various sums of money to promote the election of Congressman John J. Jenkins of Wisconsin.
(D) H. E. Miles of Racine, Wis., chairman of the executive committee for the creation of a tariff commission; active director in the N. A. M. and instructed to pay Watson money for services rendered as lobbyist; sought appointment as member of the tariff commission created to head off tariff revision.
(E) D. M. Parry, former president of the N. A. M.; very active as director of lobby operations upon his retirement from presidency; took a conspicuous part in creation of tariff commission in 1909.
NINE—That the National Association of Manufacturers, through its agents, Cushing and Mulhall, successfully conducted the campaign to break the strikes of the job printers in St. Louis in 1907; 10,000 hatmakers in Danbury, Conn., and New Jersey points in 1909; and of 4,000 shoemakers at Portsmouth, O., in 1907.
TEN—That these agents of the N. A. M. planted spies in the labor unions with which the strikers were connected, corrupted minor labor leaders, personally paid them sums of money which are set forth in the correspondence turned over to the Tribune by Col. Mulhall; enlisted the support of clergymen to break the strike at Danbury and even sought to influence

Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore to compel a settlement favorable to the hatmakers through local clergymen. In carrying out this campaign Col. Mulhall enlisted the assistance of the Rev. H. C. Meserve of the First Congregational church of Danbury and of the Rev. Fathers Shanley and Kennedy. In its strike breaking undertakings the N. A. M. had the co-operation of many men high in the councils of the Republican party and a few in the Democratic party, either by reason of political affiliation, friendly sentiment, business prejudice, or personal gain.

ELEVEN—That the National Association of Manufacturers conducted a relentless warfare against public officials and labor leaders who opposed its legislative and industrial plans; financed the campaign of candidates against them and sought to influence them from congress; that the information upon which these undertakings were based was secretly supplied to the N. A. M. by its agents in congress and among the labor unions; that this "blacklist" included the following:

(A) Congressman John L. Burnett of the seventh Alabama district, beaten in 1908 because he was too active on the floor of congress against bills favored by the National Association of Manufacturers, which organized an effective propaganda against him in his district.

(B) Former Congressman George E. Pearre of Maryland; beaten because of his authorship of the Pearre national injunction bill.

(C) Former Congressman Henry L. Maynard of the Second West Virginia district; beaten for opposition to N. A. M. measures.

(D) Speaker Champ Clark of Missouri; unsuccessfully opposed by every influence at the command of the N. A. M., both in 1908 and 1910.

(E) Congressman Henry A. Cooper of the First Wisconsin district; unsuccessfully opposed because of his radical opposition to Cannon, though otherwise friendly to the National Association of Manufacturers.

(F) Former Congressman Thomas D. Nichols of the Tenth Pennsylvania district; beaten in 1910 because of his persistent opposition to the interests of the N. A. M. and for his championship of labor interests; elected in 1910 by a diminished majority.

(G) Former Congressman Herbert Parsons of the Thirtieth New York district; defeated in 1910 because of his opposition to Cannonism.

(H) Congressman W. S. Green of the Fifteenth Massachusetts district; unsuccessfully opposed in 1908 because of his opposition to Cannon and the other interests of the Manufacturers' association.

(I) Congressman Gilbert N. Hanson of the Fourth Iowa district; opposed with all the influence at the command of the National Association of Manufacturers in 1908, but re-elected by a very small majority.

(J) Former Congressman William B. Wilson of the Fifteenth Pennsylvania district; beaten in 1912 because of his opposition to the plans of the National Association of Manufacturers and his championship of labor; appointed by President Wilson secretary of labor.

(K) Former United States Senator Louis E. McComas of Maryland, opposed for every office he ran for because of his authorship of the general eight hour bill and his championship of labor interests in general.

(L) United States Senator William Hughes of New Jersey; beaten for congress in 1904 and opposed at all times, and barely escaped defeat in 1910 because of his activities in behalf of labor reforms.

(M) Former Congressman John Kellher of Massachusetts; beaten in 1910 for the same reason.

(N) Former Congressman Connolly of Massachusetts; beaten in 1910 for the same reason.

(O) President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor; made the target of many forms of attack to discredit him after repeated failures to bribe him by agents of the National Association of Manufacturers.

(P) John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, member of the civic federation; opposed by every influence at the command of the National Association of Manufacturers.

(Q) Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; made the object of attacks by agents of the National Association of Manufacturers.

TWELVE—That Col. Mulhall has personal knowledge and accounts to show that during this year political and strike breaking work for the National Association of Manufacturers he paid out to accomplish the purposes of that organization a sum approximately $200,000, all of which was supplied to him by officials of the association.

The personal and active Col. Mulhall follows. It will be continued from day to day until completed.

Messenger the following is the voice of the heavens:

The new moon of the month occurs just after five in the morning of the 4th, and falls in the 12th house in sextile to Mars in the 11th, and opposition to Jupiter in the 6th. Neptune is exactly rising. Mercury on the cusp of the 2nd. Uranus on the cusp of the 8th. Mars and Venus in the 11th, and Saturn close to the cusp of the 12th. The rising position of Neptune denotes much unrest, socialistic agitation and strikes. Mercury on the cusp of the 2nd in square to Mars is not good for the Revenue, and increased expenditure is shown. Accidents on railways, thefts in postal affairs, and libel actions. Agriculture will improve. Much increased expenditure in naval affairs, and an augmentation of the fleet is probable. Foreign affairs will be quiet. Uranus on the cusp of the 8th, points to many sudden deaths, and being in square to Mars, is an indication of suicides. Aviation fatalities will be numerous. The government will be strong, for Mars and Jupiter rulers of the 16th are in trine, and Royalty and the Upper Ten will gain in public esteem. The position of Mars in the 11th points to heated debates on naval and military matters. Venus therein, is favorable for women's franchise. Accidents to members of parliament are shown. The position of Saturn is not good for hospitals and institutions, and much mortality will occur therein.

Saturn still affects the States and Belgium. London will begin to feel the depressing influence of this planet. Irish affairs will be unsettled. Both France and Italy will be disturbed, and strikes and violence will occur. Russia will be seriously affected. The kaiser of Germany is under evil influence, and will be liable to commit acts of indiscretion which will have far-reaching effects.

Astrology for July

Zadkiel, the London astrologer, gives the following as the voice of the stars for July:

The eastern question overshadows the horizon of Europe, and Austria and Germany, as well as Turkey, have very critical times to pass through this summer. Unrest is very likely to develop in Egypt as well as in the Balkans. Our foreign office will find serious difficulties in the way of preserving peace, and Great Britain may probably have to take heed to the sign of the sword. Cases of cruelty to animals are likely to occur. Mars troubles the rulers of Russia, Germany, Austria and Spain, especially about the 24th to the 29th days of July. Saturn is creeping up toward the ascendant (the 18th degree of the sign Gemini) of London, and Mars speeds on through Taurus, which transits are hostile to the peace and welfare of the capitals of England and Ireland. Disturbances are likely to arise, and it will be well if a great strike can be prevented, for Mercury becomes stationary on the 21st day. France and Italy can hardly escape great popular excitement and industrial strife. About the 5th, 22nd and 29th days, underground troubles, or earthquakes, in the southeast of Europe are threatened. ## TEXAS HEARING OVER

OVER EIGHT HUNDRED THOUSAND WORDS OF TESTIMONY HAS BEEN TAKEN.

John Q. Tabor is on the stand to tell of Prices—Next Hearing to Be in New York.

Houston, July 1.—The Texas $102,000,000 oil penalty case hearings were closed here today. The next hearings were announced for New York City, about the middle of August, the date to be fixed later and to be followed possibly by hearings at Titusville, Pennsylvania, and other eastern points. Lasting nearly a month, the Texas hearings have produced almost 800,000 words of testimony in the state's charges that the Standard Oil company of New York and New Jersey, with the Magnolia Petroleum company and the Corsicana Petroleum company, both Texas concerns, have violated Texas anti-trust laws. John D. Rockefeller, H. C. Folger Jr., John D. Archbold and several other men prominent in Standard Oil companies, are included in the charges, their names standing opposite the bulk of the big penalty assessments. The hearings showed that Messrs. Archbold and Folger are the Magnolia's principal stockholders, but Mr. Rockefeller's name was not brought into the Texas testimony.

J. Q. Tabor, manager of the Magnolia's southern Texas division sales department, testified he came from the Pierce-Fordyce association two years ago and that shortly afterward thirty-three other Pierce-Fordyce sales department men went with the Magnolia's southern division. At the same time Gulf Refining company men and one Texas oil company man were lured by Magnolia. Tabor had been assistant manager for the Pierce-Fordyce association's Texas sales department. The employees who went with him to Magnolia, he said, included his chief clerk, assistant chief clerk and chief stenographer of the Pierce-Fordyce company.

Richard Maury, conducting the probe for the state, asked whether this did not leave the Pierce-Fordyce southern office without an executive head and anyone familiar with the details of the executive end of the work. Tabor would not admit this. He said his successor came to the Pierce-Fordyce office a week before he (Tabor) left.

Mr. Tabor firmly refused to tell what his salary with Pierce-Fordyce had been. Mr. Maury passed this question for the time, after mentioning the possibility of contempt proceedings. Maury brought out the fact that, while numerous Pierce-Fordyce men from Tabor's division, the southern, went to Magnolia, not a Pierce-Fordyce man from either San Antonio or El Paso, both in the Pierce-Fordyce western division, went to the Magnolia. Tabor admitted this.

Photographs Are Shown.
Nine photographs made in 1912 of sales tickets or invoices of Magnolia competitors were introduced. Mr. Tabor identified them, three from the Gulf Refining company, three from the Pierce-Fordyce, and three from the Texas company. Mr. Tabor said all except one of these photographs came from the Magnolia's Dallas office. He did not explain what their purpose was.

The state's contention that the Magnolia made no attempt to set oil in New Mexico because a Standard Oil company is said to be in that field, was brought up in a letter from W. W. Mann of Alamogordo, New Mexico, asking the Magnolia's El Paso station for quotations on stove gasoline. Mr. Tabor was ordered to produce this afternoon records showing whether the Magnolia had sold Mann any oil whatever or had quoted Mann any prices. Tabor had previously testified the El Paso station does some business with New Mexico buyers of oil.

Contracts were introduced in which the Magnolia sold gasoline with this reduction when lubricants were called for. Numerous contracts of this sort with Texas firms were introduced.

Mr. Maury had Tabor read the Magnolia's prices from 1911 to date at Orange, Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, El Paso, Palestine and Brownsville on best light oil, gasoline and engine naphtha. All these prices showed a steady advance since the end of 1911. The highest prices were those quoted this year. On gasoline at New Orleans, city delivery, was 14 to 20 cents per gallon, at El Paso 14 to 21, San Antonio 13 to 20, Houston 12 to 20, Galveston 13 1/2 to 20, at Palestine 14 to 20, and at Brownsville 15 to 21 cents.

Mr. Maury made the point that these sales covered the farthest distances west, east, north and south that oil products are shipped in Tabor's division.

He instructed Tabor to produce this afternoon contracts for any sales made in Louisiana.

Tabor testified that Louis Fries at San Antonio was manager for the Pierce-Fordyce company's western Texas division when the Magnolia was organized; that Fries is still at San Antonio in the same position, and that Fries (Tabor) had only two Pierce-Fordyce men from Fries' division have quit Pierce-Fordyce to work for the Magnolia.

Customary to Cut.
On further cross-examination Tabor said that the Magnolia had employed only two out of the four Pierce-Fordyce sales managers in Texas; that out of 129 agents in the Pierce-Fordyce south Texas division not more than eleven went over to the Magnolia, and that but two out of twelve or fifteen traveling salesmen in the same Pierce-Fordyce district had gone to the Magnolia. The defense brought out testimony from Tabor that the one cut off on certain gasoline contract prices is customary in all oil companies. The defense also showed that Tabor's testimony about sales at four Louisiana points covered only the Magnolia's southern division business with Louisiana. He did not know what oil other branches of the Magnolia sold in Louisiana.

On Tabor's redirect examination, it was brought out that the Magnolia secured from Pierce-Fordyce three of its six salaried agents in Tabor's division. Maury made the point that this was half the most important agencies, as the bulk of the agencies pay commissions in lieu of salaries.

Tabor's Chief Clerk.
A. F. Denniston of Houston, the Magnolia's chief clerk, and W. W. Ray, Tabor's chief clerk, were the other witnesses today. Both sides took a hand in joking Denniston on a scout's duties. He said when he thought people were not telling him the truth about an oil well, he "sometimes stood behind a ridge and watched to see for himself. Maury suggested that he also sometimes climbed trees or "laid down in the tall grass to watch." Denniston retorted:

"I never hid in the tall grass in this country on account of the chiggers."

Maury excused Denniston, remarking that he called him only to make his acquaintance.

Tabor was recalled to identify twenty-seven gasoline contracts, after which the hearing adjourned sine die.

PROTEST AGAINST THE TAX

Cotton Exchange People Object to Paying on All Future
Deals.

New Orleans, July 1.—The proposition contained in the Clarke amendment to the Underwood tariff bill to tax one-tenth of a cent a pound all cotton futures contracts, has aroused aggressive opposition on the part of members of the New Orleans cotton exchange and many others interested heavily in cotton trade throughout the South. Hundreds of telegrams from cotton dealers in a dozen states have been received at the exchange asking that its officers make every effort to prevent the enactment of the amendment into law.

W. B. Thompson, former president of the New Orleans exchange, today telegraphed to President Wilson in behalf of the organization, a protest against the proposed tax. His statement says in part:

"This tax is prohibitive. It will put an end to non-speculative as well as speculative contracts and hence destroy hedge protection. Upon this protection is based the system whereby the crop is marketed with the least expense and at the maximum price, and the system whereby the manufacturer is enabled to contract his output ahead, thus increasing the consumption of raw cotton and creating a demand for the product. The amendment is a daring assault upon the economies of the cotton trade."

As Assistant Actuary.

Austin, July 1.—R. E. Daly of Kansas City, recently appointed to succeed R. R. Nelson as assistant actuary of the state department of banking and insurance, arrived today. He was formerly connected with the insurance department of the state of Missouri.

Hearing at Galveston.

Austin, July 1.—The entire docket of the railroad commission for the month of July was transferred today to Galveston, to be held in the Hotel Galvez July 8 and 9. The important cotton hearing is set for July 9.

By G. D. Wilson.

Glaze's Oilers enjoyed an outing yesterday at Katy park and in spite of the hot weather made quite an afternoon of it. The principal feature of the entertainment which was especially provided for them was a harmless amusement invented for the occasion which might be named, "Who'll Get It?"—meaning the ball. Lohman and Jost both got it in the neck—not the ball. The way they played "who'll get it?" was for a Waco pitcher to throw a ball over the plate and then dodge, and while it was on the way every man in the field would guess who would get it.

The new sport is more amusing than

Cook's drives meant death to the fielders.

"Pussy wants a corner," but Cooke on the Beaumont team would play fair—he knocked the ball over the fence where nobody could get it. The Beaumont fellows made the Waco team chase the ball thirteen times and Torrey wouldn't let Waco give them but three chances. The final score was 7 to 6 in favor of the visitors.

Where the Oilers sit in the percentage column they look perfectly harmless, but they have a most surprising way of taking back holds and throwing the heavyweights, and they have been keeping it up consistently ever since their rejuvenating leader, Glaze, took hold of the then "down and outers."

The Beaumont crew didn't play any particular inside baseball. They played the game like many a good old rule nine has done to win. They would get men on base by hitting where the opponents were not, and then send some fellow up to knock them in. The style of baseball they played is very similar to breaking rock—so far as the mental process goes—but the main thing about the method is that it wins. This rock-breaking metaphor applies strictly to their offense. Their work in the field was good. Big Jim Williams made a trio of spectacular catches that showed the sledge hammer style was not the full repertoire of the Oilers' tactics.

Lohman Batted Out.

Zeke Lohman started off for the Waco crew, but he merely got started, his getaway lasting only for two and one-third innings, when Manager Carson yanked him. Carson felt that Lohman is too valuable a pitcher to risk his life by keeping him exposed to the stinging of the Beaumonters. He driving at him. He picked out lengthy Jost as presenting the least exposed surface and sent him in. Jost was unable to stop the pounding of the visitors, but managed to dodge all their streaks of sudden death, all but one. He eventually pitched who was up and grooved a slow ball, while Cooke had a wagon tongue in his hand. Now, grooving a ball on Cooke when he is in his yesterday's frame of mind, is about as safe as getting a job in a powder factory and learning to smoke a pipe while on duty. Jost dodged the drive and batted it down with his glove, cooling it off sufficiently to save his life, but Cooke went safe. This attempt at suicide came in the seventh.

In the third inning Dobard, the first man up for Beaumont, hit, as also did Betts. Williams went out, Duguey to Wohlleben. Cooke hit and Reynolds' hit scored Dobard and Betts. Jost relieved Lohman and Casey hit but McMahon flew out. Cooke had been caught at third.

In Waco's half of the third yardley hit one which took a hop over Cooke's head at first and Reilly followed with a safety. Jost sacrificed, but Duguey flew out to Casey and McMahon was out, Dobard to Cooke.

In the fourth, with two men out, Dobard hit. Betts' double and McMahon's wild throw scored him. Williams hit, scoring Betts, and Cooke put the ball over the fence for two runs. Reynolds went out yardley to Wohlleben. Following these clean-up innings, Jost settled down and pitched good ball, no further scores being made.

Austin 5, Galveston 3.

Austin, July 1.—The Austin Senators took the opener from Galveston today by an 5 to 3 score and gathered only two hits off Dodd, who was sent in to relieve Sewell after Sewell had pitched two-thirds of an inning. Moore opened for Galveston and he gave eleven bases on balls in 5-2-3 innings and in the sixth inning he walked six batters, pitching thirty-two balls, and only two were called strikes. Austin was unable to hit Dodd. Moore and his generosity gave them the game. Lefty Lewis batted right ball until the last inning, when a walk and a pair of doubles, coupled with an error gave the Pirates their runs. Galveston— AB. R. H. PO. A. E.

RITTER SUSPENDED FOR SEASON

Catcher for Texarkana Fined $25 for First Fight—Fans Get Into Mix-up. Texarkana, Tex., July 1.—Following an assault on Pitcher Horton during yesterday's game between Texarkana and Wichita Falls, Catcher "Dad" Ritter was fined $25 and suspended for the remainder of the season by the management of the local club. Ritter claimed the pitcher crossed signals which Horton claimed he had not done intentionally.

Last night Story, shortstop on the local team and a local fan named Powell engaged in an altercation on the streets and Ritter started to take a hand but was bitten on the finger by one of the belligerents and was pulled out of the fray by an officer. Powell, Story and Ritter were arrested and this morning Powell and Ritter were fined in the city court for fighting, Story's case being continued.

Joe Birmingham Who Had Trouble With Larry Lajoie

Joe Birmingham had a run-in with Larry Lajoie last week. He stated that he was going to put Lajoie on the bench and use him as a pinch hitter. Lajoie objected strenuously to the arrangement, and the affair threatened a disruption in the Naps' camp. The matter has not wholly been settled yet.

Joe Birmingham's remarkable success this season with the Cleveland club of the American league has increased the fans all over the country. In the ninth inning of the second game with Frank Chance's New York team, Birmingham doubled and in sliding into second caught his spikes on the rock to which the bag was fastened, breaking the bone in one of his ankles. The injury may keep him out of the game the balance of the season.

Birmingham's success as a manager has been meteoric. When Harry Davis resigned in disgust toward the close of last year, Birmingham was placed in charge of the team that was skidding toward the cellar. He seemed to put new life into the Naps immediately. The team pulled itself together and by a magnificent spurt in the closing days nosed out the White Sox and finished in the first division.

The present season opened in a blaze of glory for Cleveland. Birmingham kept them on the fight from the start, and played a magnificent game himself in the outfield. With practically the same team that finished fourth last year, he has been at the top and fighting it out with the Athletics and Washingtons, until this unfortunate accident laid him low. Joe is only 29 years old, the youngest big league manager in captivity.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS.

Will Discuss Handling of Rice and Other Products.

New Orleans, July 1.—Announcement of plans for a joint conference of governors of South Atlantic and Gulf coast states and coastwise shippers of rice, cotton, lumber and other southern products, to consider means for improving facilities for coastwise trade, is made in a letter received here today by the Lumber Trade Journal from E. S. Farwell of Orange, Texas, who was designated by Governor Colquitt to arrange for the conference.

Practically all of the governors of southern coast states and many prominent shippers, according to Mr. Farwell, have signified their intention of attending the meeting, which probably will be held in New Orleans about September 1.

Special attention will be given by the conference to means for enlarging the coastwise merchant marine. A radical revision of merchant marine laws probably will be urged.

TAX ON ALL DEALS

STAMP MUST BE AFFIXED ON CONTRACTS OF FUTURES.

So Says Tariff Bill—Earnings of Mutual Companies Returned Are Exempt.

Washington, July 1.—Senate Democrats approached a final agreement on the Underwood-Simmons tariff bill in caucus late today, when they made the following decisions on important contested points:

Mutual life insurance companies were exempted from payment of income tax on earnings returned to policyholders in the form of dividends. A stamp tax of one-tenth of one cent per pound was agreed to for all trades in cotton futures, the tax to be refunded where cotton is actually delivered.

An agreement was reached for a vote tomorrow on the Hitchcock amendment proposing a restrictive tax on tobacco production to prevent monopoly.

The finance committee members held another meeting tonight to decide questions referred back from the caucus. The caucus will resume work tomorrow and it is believed the final paragraphs will be reached before tomorrow night.

Exempt Earnings to Policyholders.

The decision to exempt earnings which mutual life insurance companies later distribute to policyholders came at the end of a long debate. The caucus, by a vote of 13 to 11, overturned last night the recommendation of the finance committee Democrats that such exemption be made. On a reconsideration today asked by Senator Lewis, the caucus reversed the action and voted to uphold the committee.

Senator Overman tried vainly to have the tax on cotton futures cut down from the one-tenth of a cent basis proposed by Senator Clark, to one-twentieth of a cent.

Senator Hitchcock's fight to secure the adoption of his tobacco tax, which embraced the views set forth some time ago by Attorney General McReynolds for curbing the growth of the trust, was carried on until adjournment tonight, and will be renewed tomorrow.

Members of the finance committee decided against the bill which would impose a heavy tax on production above a certain figure. Senator Hitchcock will propose an amendment for a tax on the production of all corporations that control more than a specified amount of the production in their line of industry, and will attempt to have both amendments made part of the tariff bill.

GETTYSBURG SCENE OF PEACE

up the pure flowers of friendship and love.

Gettysburg seems destined to be the stage upon which shall be unfolded the scenes of a great historic drama. Within the short span of fifty years its gentle slopes and placid plains have witnessed three scenes of great historic import, running the gamut of man's threefold nature. Each scene has been unique and typical of its kind; first the battle, with its almost unexampled display of the physical powers of man; then the great heart and mind of Abraham Lincoln, bodied forth in his wonderful address delivered here; and last, this assemblage, the deep spiritual significance of which can scarcely be exaggerated. So we have body, mind and spirit, each displaying its distinctive characteristics to their fullest extent upon the small stage of the world's greatest theatre.

Refers to the Conflict.

"Fifty years ago today there began here one of those conflicts between man and man, marked by such exhibitions of valor, courage and almost superhuman endurance as to engrave itself upon the tablet of history, there to remain ever memorable. Equal met equal, and in the domain of physical prowess all were worthy of medals of honor. The superiority was that of resources, not of individual strength or courage. So long as men love valor and worship heroes, the name of Gettysburg, and of those who fought there, will be ever on their lips. Four months afterwards, the field of Gettysburg inspired in the great mind and heart of Abraham Lincoln the most wonderful prose poem ever written. Its music literally rang around the world and sang in the hearts of men, and will continue to sing in the blood of the sons of men until Time itself shall be no more.

"And last, but by no means least, this gathering here upon the field of Gettysburg today. Thousands and tens of thousands of former foes are here gathered together in brotherly union. You who first met upon this field to vie with each other in doing hurt to the one to the other, now meet here to outvie each other in deeds of kindness and friendship and love. History holds no parallel. This meeting is the final demonstration that the last embers of the former time have been stamped out; and the great conflagration, which it was feared would consume our country, merely served to weld the different parts of it so firmly together as to be a perfect whole that no power can ever break it. The Civil war was a battle for ideals; and if our beloved country could withstand a war waged for ideals; one waged for any lower, baser purpose can never overthrow it.

Conflict Was Necessary.

"Time has enabled us to attain a truer perspective than was possible while nearness to the conflict obscured the fact. Looking back with an unbiased eye, we can see the truth; we can see that in the very nature of things some such conflict was necessary to settle great questions for which there was no peaceful tribunal; we can see that the war of '61 was fought by men upon each side for the right as each saw it; we can acclaim, without abandoning any view which we may hold, that the men on each side were actuated by high pure purposes, and were compelled by their consciences to do what they did. Before the war we were a loosely connected band of communities; we emerged from it a firmly welded-together nation.

"We must recall that the settlers of our country came from all parts of the world, actuated by no common impulse and associated for no common purpose; that the constitution was without a model, and at the inception it loosely bound together thirteen commonwealths that had little in common excepting the necessity of combination against an outer enemy. Each state or community, almost of necessity, became self-centered; and communication and commerce in those days was so slight that there was little inter-communion of any sort between the people of the different sections of the land.

"At the time of the Civil war this great, wonderful experiment in self government was only 72 years old, and up to that time each community had busied itself with great energy to develop its own resources, to increase its own strength and means. So busy was each community in those pioneering days that, whatever the inclination might have been, there was little time or opportunity for mutual consultation and effort.

Two Sides to Strife.
"And then the time for the inevitable arrived. Those who honestly believed that the United States was a voluntary association of independent sovereign states, met in irrepressible conflict those who honestly believed that the United States was an indivisible union of otherwise independent states. Each side, with all the earnestness of those whose hearts, minds and consciences are committed to an ideal, sought to mold the government to their respective views. There was no earthly tribunal before which this great issue could be tried and determined. The arbitrament of arms alone remained.

"The war that followed had no element of wantonness, or aggrandizement, or lust of gain; and no men of purer spirit ever lived than those who waged it upon the respective sides. It found the states in its beginning, like a loosely tied bundle of fagots; and at its end, and when the wounds of it had been healed, it left a great sturdy oak as the central body of our union, with strong, sturdy branches of intense vitality firmly attached to it. Hence, whatever one's views may have been upon the righteousness of the issue, wholesome respect to those of each side must be rendered. Such a gathering as this we have witnessed today would not otherwise have been possible.

"It is through pain that we attain anything of value; it was through pain that this nation found itself; and, upon the great foundation thus secured and established, proceeded to advance with giant strides to the forefront of the nations of the earth. Was Worth It All.

"Can we not today, penetrated as we are by the deep spiritual meaning of this impressive gathering, surely say that it was worth it all; that those silent martyrs lying forever enshrined upon this field, did not die in vain; that you who are at the front here the storm and stress of that great conflict, and those who waited in trembling anxiety at home and bore the woe and agony of suspense and uncertainty, did not suffer in vain?"

"Can we not truly say that until this people had withstood some such stress as this, there was no assurance that this first great experiment of the ability of men to govern themselves was surely successful? Shrink from the facts as we may, do they not prove their case? Would we within, or those who stood outside, ever have felt the assurance which is now felt? Do we not know that those who the God of Nations hath joined together, no man can put asunder?"

"Apart from the deep significance which your meeting has, and from the important page which will fill in history, is it not good for you as individuals to be here today? Your last memories of this field will overlay the earlier ones. It will no longer picture itself in your memories as a field of carnage and suffering, but as a field of smiling faces and happy hearts and great joys. And so the picture will go forth to the nation, and it will rejoice with you, and the whole world will realize that not only has government of the people, by the people, and for the people not perished from the earth, but that it will never perish."

Governor Tener's Address.

Governor Tener said in part: "As governor of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and speaking for her people, I extend a welcome to the soldiers and sailors, the blue and the gray survivors of the great hosts of men who fifty years ago wrote upon the pages of the world's martial history the enduring fame and glory of the American soldier."

"We are today on the greatest battlefield of the Civil war and of the world, not to commemorate a victory, but rather to emphasize the spirit of national brotherhood and national unity, which, since the close of the war, enabled this republic to move forward and upward until today she leads the nations of the earth in all that makes for the advancement and uplift of the human race."

No Stain on Manhood.

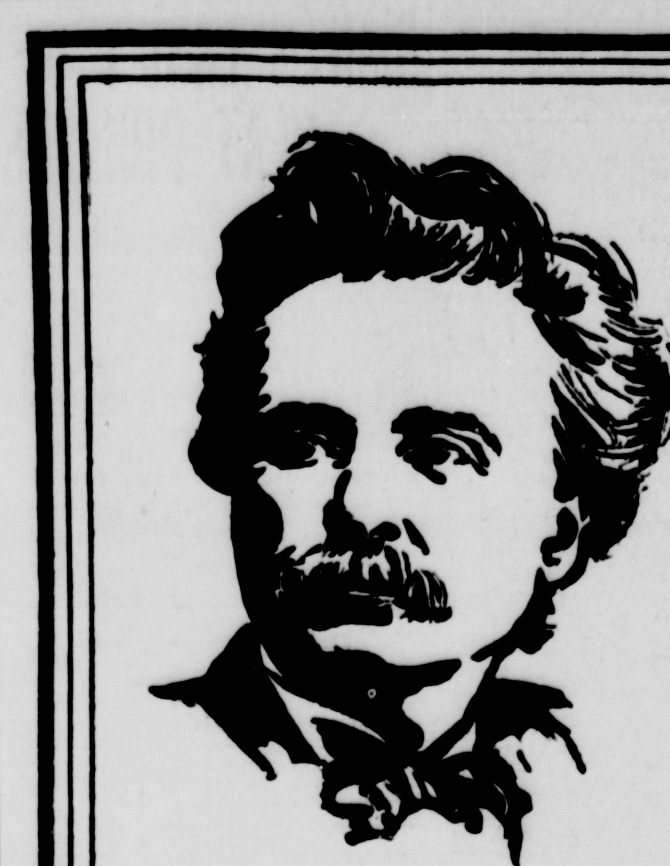

"We meet on this occasion to participate in a ceremony that stands unmatched in all record time; for nowhere in history have men who opposed each other in mighty battle thus come together in peaceful reunion fifty years thereafter; all-contending in the result of struggle and grateful that in defeat or victory there was left no stain upon American manhood and no question as to the bravery or devotion of duty of the American soldier."

"Today soldiers in some instances journeying from southern states and Confederate soldiers in some instances from northern states, this celebration, home north and south, from homes where they have reared a common progeny and where through the influence of the fireside, the school, the church, they have helped to knit together all sections of our country in sectional comradeship and perfect unity. The great heart of the whole people of Pennsylvania goes out to you as honored guests of the nation and state. Our sincerest desire is for your great enjoyment while here and our fondest wish is that when you return to your homes you may recall in most pleasant memory of this day and time."

General Young's address.

Gen. Bennett H. Young, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, said no man who loves his country "can fail to read in the circumstances surrounding this celebration the stimulation and uplifting power of a people's government." He asserted the scenes at Gettysburg today are the completest evidence of the perpetuity of the American republic. He declared the men of both armies whose deeds of valor made this battle fifty years historic were true to truth as they saw it and that more than eight out of every ten who participated in that struggle "have gone to be with the immortals."

Referring to the tattered battle flags in evidence on every hand, General Young said "they will no longer be waved to lead men into the jaws of death, but to declare and proclaim a peace that in its beneficent power and its political liberty challenges not only the gaze, but the admiration of the civilized world.

He spoke feelingly of the fact that the men who fought half a century ago meet today as friends, with war animosities forgotten.

All Men Are Equal.
"There are things in the past that are regrettable," he said. "Laws were enacted that challenged the equality of the men of the south, but tried in the crucible of reason, liberty and patriotism, they have all been repealed. Every state has equal rights, every man has equal privileges. The war has left no badge of inferiority, and the men who wore the blue and followed the flag of the Union ask for and expect nothing that is not the right of the men who wore the gray and followed the stars and bars."

"It may be that the suggestion lately put into form to give Confederate soldiers the same privileges in national soldiers' homes as federal soldiers may lead to the establishment of this right, or that peace, in its demand for the obliteration of all bitterness of the past, may demand that the nation shall pension surviving Confederates."

"I do not even suggest, or, in the name of my people, say that it would be acceptable, but this republic is a great destroyer of the cherished ideals of the past when they stand in the way of completest justice. For nearly fifty years the people of the south, without complaint, have contributed millions for the pensions of federal soldiers. A nation's gratitude has been meted out through enormous grants to provide for the federal soldiers, their wives and children. No murmur ever has come from the men of the Confederacy over this vast outlay, and there are some who predict that the hour may arrive in national life when the few and inform remaining men who fought under the Confederate standards with admittedly unsurpassed courage may have in their evening time the comforts and conveniences that their intrepidity deserves."

McKinley's Tribute.

"William McKinley reached the sublime heights of statesmanship when he allowed a little daughter of the south to pin a Confederate badge on his breast, and when, gifted as few men with the power of forecasting political events, he urged that the graves of Confederates who died in northern prisons should have, at the cost of their nation's treasury, a stone to tell who they are, whence they came and where they died."

"No greater triumph of generosity ever was witnessed than when the United States put up markers over the sepulchres of southern soldiers and carved upon them those inspiring words, 'Confederate Soldier.'"

These magic words, he said, touch the tenderest sentiments of a sound heart and proclaim high distinction among those who love them, because they died for the southland. General Young praised the hospitality of Pennsylvania and the patriotic plans which made it possible for the Confederate soldiers to participate jointly with their former foes in the jubilee celebration.

While the north cherishes the memories of its great leaders, the south, he said, claimed the same right for their heroes of the Confederacy.

Lee and Jackson.

"Robert E. Lee was to us the greatest, noblest and grandest soldier and man combined that the world ever has produced," he said. "Stonewall Jackson, the vigorous and skillful leader, who walked with God in prayer and used his divinely given genius for the defense of the rights and homes of his people, is to us the embodiment of all that was great and sublime in a Christian soldier's life. To our minds the world has not produced his equal."

He paid tribute to other Confederate leaders, among them Albert Sydney Johnston, Joseph E. Johnston, J. E. B. Stuart, John H. Morgan, Joe Wheeler, Nathan Bedford Forrest, Wade Hampton, Hood and Longstreet.

North Had More Resources.

The Confederate soldiers loved General Lee next to their God, he said, but when he surrendered they acquiesced in his judgment, believing the south had failed not because it was wrong but because the north had more men, better food and better guns, more resources than the south had. However, he said, it had been determined that the states are one, that the union is indissoluble, the question is forever settled by the war.

"The men who fought in the greatest war of the ages," he said, "made fiercer by the fact that it was a civil war, now celebrate a peace that bears no stains or bitterness from the sad and savage desolation, losses and ruin of a struggle that cost 750,000 lives and such treasure as defies the power of figures. A peace that, like heaven's peace, will abide always and ever stand for the preservation and defense of a noble republic."

"We point with immeasurable pride to the past; whether on one side or the other, it was a great past, a past that quickens the manliest emotions of brave and chivalrous men."

"Your ideals in the war are not the same as ours. Lee and Stonewall Jackson and Albert Sydney Johnston are ours, and you have yours in Grant, Meade and their associates. We put these things behind us; yet we treasure them in our heart of hearts and in the success of the republic, in the preservation of a people's government and in the defense and maintenance and the truest liberty under this government, in the equal protection of all men under the law, and in the glory of this country we have a common patriotism and common devotion to our country."

Head of G. A. R. Talks.

Alfred H. Beers of Bridgeport, Conn., commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, addressing the blue and the gray veterans, pointed out that the history of the world holds no record of such a spectacle as this—the voluntary meeting on a battlefield of those who constituted the armed forces who fought against each other. He sketched briefly the conflict waged by "men of the same race of the same bravery, the same endurance" and expressed thanks they were men now as citizens of one country to help lay the cornerstone of a stronger nation.

"The great bulk of veterans," he said, "cherished no personal animosity toward each other. Each did his duty as he saw it. Today the veterans of the north salute the veterans of the south with joy that the conflict is over and that they can meet each other as brothers."

This is figured at compound interest of 3 per cent, while as a matter of fact this bank pays 4 per cent on savings accounts.

BLACK LAND FARMS IN THE BISHOP COUNTRY; RICH SOIL, LOW INTEREST; REASONABLE TERMS.—Bountiful cotton and feed crops are assured in the Bishop country by the splendid rains. Farmers who are cultivating their lands for the second and third years, are counting on a bale to the acre, if present prospects continue. The farmers who are building up this rich section are, with few exceptions, experienced Texas black land farmers, who have come from Central and North Texas, to take part in development of this territory and reap good profits from their industry.

Here they have bought land at reasonable prices, as others are doing, with SIX PER CENT INTEREST on their deferred payments, and the land is turned over to them broken, ready for cultivation. Another feature: On sales made at this time, after the first cash payment is made, no other payment is to be made until November 1, 1915. After that date payments are made annually and run until November 1, 1921.

All notes are made payable "ON OR BEFORE" so that the purchaser can take them up in whole or in part, as he may be able or inclined.

It is no exaggeration or misrepresentation to say that the amount now being paid as rent by many farmers will practically take care of deferred payments on Bishop land, after the first payment is made.

The city of Bishop, only three years old, has a population approximating 2,000; it is the center of this rich black land farming section, which has been christened "THE BISHOP COUNTRY," and already has magnificent schools, a complete modern sewerage system, graded streets, cement sidewalks, a splendid hotel and more than 200 miles of good roads leading along all section lines and making the city easily accessible to the thrifty farmers who live along the roads. Bishop has an abundant and pure artesian water supply, good churches and all the advantages, even more, than are possessed by many cities of 10,000 population.

Full and reliable information about both country and city can be had by writing or call in person.

F. Z. BISHOP, Bishop, Texas.

PETROLIA OIL FIELD.
If you want to become interested in a bona fide oil company who will not misrepresent anything, but will give you a square deal all the time, read this:

We have just secured, by a lucky turn, 160 acres of proven oil land in the Petrolia oil field. Oil has been found on this land in paying quantities and we are willing to guarantee oil in paying quantities before claiming your money. We will begin to drill the first of the forty (40) wells which we have agreed to put down on this tract, within the next 15 days. We expect to be producing oil in paying quantities within 90 days and if we do not do so, we ask no money. In addition to the 40 wells we have agreed to drill on our 160 acres at Petrolia we are now drilling a deep well for oil on Pumpkin Ridge about 6 miles north of Petrolia, Clay county, Texas, where we own and control 3,811 acres. We will sell you a lot 20x30 feet near our drilling well and will give you an interest in the 3,811 acres, as well as an interest in the 40 wells to be put down on our 160 acres at Petrolia. You may pay $5 cash, balance in 60 and 90 days. We will return cash deposit at the end of 90 days if we haven't struck oil in paying quantities on our land. We take all risk, we feel certain of success. Act quickly. God helps those who help themselves.

Applications for no less than three shares (taken $3 each) payment $7.50. Can use good agents.

Riverside Oil Company of Randall, 1303 Southwestern Bldg., Dallas, Tex.

SAY!
Do you know where the "GREAT SHALLOW WATER BELT" is and what it means? No. Then you should investigate now. Location: On the South Plains of Texas, that magnificent, boundless stretch of rich, level land, ready for the plow, without a parallel in the United States, now crossed by the Santa Fe Ry., giving easy access to the world's markets. Meaning: An inexhaustible supply of purest water underneath the surface 20 to 70 feet—average 60 feet, permitting every farmer to install his individual pumping plant. With it he can crank his gasoline engine, start the pump, apply the water where he wants it and with water intelligently applied to this soil bountiful harvests are always assured.

LITTLEFIELD LANDS in the SHALLOW WATER BELT can be bought at from $20 to $30 per acre on terms of 1-3 cash, balance on easy payments. A pumping plant complete costs about $10 to $30 per acre, according to size; making the land with water developed cost $30 to $60 per acre. It is ready for the plow too. No expensive wilderness to grub and clear, just hitch up and go to work. Why pay dearth for land for lands not so desirable? Why remain in the black mud, fight Johnson grass, boll weevil, etc., suffer from too much or too little rain, with uncertain crops every year, when such an opportunity as this awaits you? The reasonable answer is to sell your high priced land, halve the price into developed irrigated land here, use the other half in improvement, silos, high grade cattle and live the independent life of the prosperous, contented stock farmer. Don't think you know all about this country, for you don't. Few who read this have any conception of where it is or what it is. Combine business with pleasure this 4th of July and come out on cheap excursion July 1, 2 and 3. Special train leaves Sweetwater at 7 o'clock p. m., July 3d, running through to Littlefield. North and Central Texas parties can leave Dallas or Fort Worth on west-bound Texas & Pacific train morning of July 3d and catch the special at Sweetwater that evening, reaching Littlefield within 24 hours. Not so far away as it! Those living further south can leave Temple on the Santa Fe early morning train same day and make same connection. There is tremendous profit in buying Littlefield lands now. Do you want it? Come eat barbecue with us on the 4th anyway.

ANCIENT GAME OF POLO.

Was Called "Chaugan" in Days when It Was Popular in Persia. (New York Evening Sun.)

When polo was first played in England in 1569 it was styled "hockey on horseback." Yet hockey itself was one of the numerous games with stick and ball derived from the common ancestor, polo.

They called it "chaugan" in the days when the sport was popular with the Persians. As far back as the sixth century B. C. this sport of the Persian aristocracy was in a flourishing condition. The ancient Persian poets sang its praises even as do the sporting writers today. The game was played by Persian women, too. In the British museum there is an old painting of several Persian ladies playing a game of polo. The painting shows that the Persians bandaged the legs of their mounts exactly as the polo ponies are bandaged today.

The Mohammedans, when they conquered Persia, learned the game of "chaugan," and liked it so much that they took it up for one of their own sports. The game traveled from Persia to Tartary, and then to India via Afghanistan, Japan and China, too, had acquired their horses to the center of the field after it. This was changed so that the teams lined up as they do now. The sport then became popular in England, and in 1889 the Hurlingham Club, now the representative polo club of England, was formed.

Polo was introduced into the United States in 1876. It was first played at Dickler's Riding Academy. Two polo clubs were organized, the Westchester Polo Club and the Brighton Polo Club. In 1878, in the first match in the United States, held at Prospect Park, Brooklyn, the Westchester team defeated the Brighton team. The famous Meadow Brook Club was started in 1881.

Among the natives in India the game was "kunjia," and was introduced into England, after having been brought to Calcutta by English army officers. The Ninth Lancers played the first polo match in England in 1871. There was no great interest taken in the sport by the English public until many improvements were made in the rules. From eight men on a team the number of players was gradually reduced to four. The style of play changed also. At first the ball was thrown into the center of the field and all the players spurred their horses to the center of the field after it. This was changed so that the teams lined up as they do now. The sport then became popular in England, and in 1889 the Hurlingham Club, now the representative polo club of England, was formed.

SIGHTLY HOUSE FOR SCALES

Sam Nix Presents Plans to the City, Which Are Given Approval.

A slightly building is to be erected on the square for the housing of the public scales.

Acting on a recommendation of the city commission, Sam Nix, public weigher, has had plans drawn for a building which will be both pleasing in appearance and at the same time not occupy any great amount of space. Mr. Nix presented the plans for the building to the city commission yesterday morning, and they were approved. The commission also instructed the city attorney to draw the necessary papers to protect the city in the event the building should be removed from the square.

The report of City Electrician E. F. Copley for the month of June, showing $169.75 received, was approved by Commissioner Dolins and filed.

Application of L. Lipshitz to erect a shed in the alley between First and Second streets was approved.

Application to remodel the Morning News building at 116 North Fifth street was approved.

Contract between the city of Waco and V. Alessandro for band concerts during the summer at the various parks was read and referred to Commissioner Foster for further action.

Franchise to the Southern Traction company, granting the privilege to construct a double track street car line from Hood street to extend 400 feet eastward was finally passed.

Application of the Texas Power and Light company to erect a coke shed on Mary street of timber, was held up for further investigation. Commissioner Dolins reported favorably upon the application, but later withdrew his approval. The location is within the fire limits, and the erection of a wooden structure within those limits is contrary to the ordinance.

A letter was read from A. P. Langston of Dallas, oil and gas expert, in which he asked the commission to consider a proposal to prospect for oil or gas near Waco. The communication was received and filed.

Commissioner Foster was given authority to fill in the space between the two bridges across the Brazos river, on the east side, with waste dirt. His idea is to build an embankment for placing hitching racks.

Commissioner Littlefield was granted a leave of absence of three weeks. He leaves soon for Alabama and North Carolina.

DANGER LURKS IN SAND PILE

Children Are Warned Away From the Work on the East Side of the Brazos.

There is danger to children playing on the sand pile on the east side of the river where the Waco Sand and Gravel company is taking sand out of the river.

This work is located very near the old "Sally" Mann homestead. The sand is being taken out every day, and it has been the custom of children to play on the pile of sand. Those in charge of the work state that it is dangerous to do this as there is quicksand there and also there is constant danger of caving. Children should be kept away from the place because of the danger.

FOR SOCIAL SURVEY OF WACO

Mayor Wants to Beautify Town and Count the Inhabitants Thereof.

With a view of beautifying and systematizing the topographical map of Waco, Mayor James H. Mackey will secure facts and figures on the costs and results that have been attained by other cities which have attempted to beautify their streets and parks.

The mayor raised the question at the commission meeting by the statement that a year ago he invited a man here to talk on city planning and park building. He said the address was most interesting and he had been in correspondence with a firm which has made this a business for some time, and believed Waco needs a plan to work to.

He said the work of these concerns was called social survey. Their idea is to group the administration buildings, to look after the health of the city, the garbage, the water, morality, charity and to take a correct census of the population. In this connection he said there had been no accurate census of Waco's inhabitants taken, and he believed this should be done. He also said these concerns had several schemes for bringing revenue to a city.

The commission granted him the authority to investigate the cost and secure facts and figures on what benefit had accrued to other cities that had taken up the scheme. He expects to report back to the commission as soon as he can hear from the firm with which he is now in communication.

Booster Trip Committees Named.

The following committees were appointed yesterday by President W. H. Hoffmann of the Cotton Palace association to arrange for the booster trip to Marlin and Mart during the yearly fairs of these two towns.

Will Lacy, Oscar Steele, and Edward Drake. They will commence on the plans this week.

Get Motor Bike to Chase Down Auto Joy Riders

The city is to purchase a new motorcycle. Attached to the cycle will be a speedometer to register the speed of joy riders. At the commission meeting yesterday morning it was decided to trade the two old machines now owned by the city for the new one. The old machines will be put into the trade for $100 and the city will pay $170 additional to secure a fully equipped new one.

TRIP TO MEXIA TO BE THURSDAY FOR NATURAL GAS

Thursday morning the Chamber of Commerce will send a delegation of citizens to Mexia to discuss the gas situation with the people there who have become producers.

This is in no sense an invitation affair. Every citizen of Waco who can do so, is urged to be one of the party. Secretary Drake states that every man with an automobile who will make the trip, and carry a friend who has no car, is asked to do so. The drive is forty miles; the roads are in good condition and the people of Mexia have extended the invitation. The start will be from the Amicable building at 7 o'clock Thursday morning, and the return will be about 6 o'clock or 7 o'clock in the evening.

INTERURBAN STATION

COMPLETED TERMINALS TO OCCUPY COMPANY SITE, FOURTH AND WASHINGTON.

To Be Up to Date and Convenient. Will Be Express Service as Well as Passenger.

The Southern Traction company is planning to make their terminal station at Fourth and Washington one of the best arranged in the South. The old car sheds are being torn away to make room for the new buildings which take their place.

The completed terminals will cover the entire site of the present offices and a two-story office building which will be 40x52 1-2 feet and will extend from the alley to Washington street. The building will be on the west end of the property now occupied by the sheds, immediately back of the old skating rink. A driveway will extend through the building, so that wagons may enter and go out from either the alley or Washington street. Wharves will extend along the wall on the west side for the handling of heavy express and freight.

The express cars will all carry trailers for freight and preparation is being made to handle a big business of this kind. A three hour freight service will be maintained between here and Dallas.

The passenger cars will enter the main building 100 feet south of Washington on Fourth street. They will stop inside the building so that passengers will be protected from the weather upon getting in and out of the cars. The cars will leave the building on the Washington street side. Preparation is being made for well arranged waiting rooms, for white people and a separate one for negroes.

It was stated at the offices of the company yesterday that the work on the track laying was being rushed night and day, but that the operation of the line will not be started for a month or six weeks. The cars have been ordered for some time and Superintendent H. P. Ross said yesterday that he had just received word that they would be here by the time the track is ready.

TO PAY FOR THE TWO AUTOS

Damage to Gibbs' Car Is $587 and to That of Mr. Gill $360.

For damage sustained by the automobile of H. J. Gibbs of Valley Mills, when that car was struck by the automobile of the chief of the fire department, the city will pay $587.

This amount was settled upon yesterday morning at the commission meeting, following the report of Fire Commissioner Dolins as to the estimated cost of repairing the two machines damaged when the accident to the department car occurred June 2.

Mr. Dolins reported that he had obtained an estimate of the cost to repair the two cars. This estimate was made by Frank Britton, expert machinist. His estimate was that it would take $587 to repair the Gibbs car and $360 to repair the Gill car, damaged at the same time. Mr. Gibbs was present and accepted the amount.

He said he had heard from the connection with the settlement of the claim the commission took the stand there is no legal obligation that would compel the city to pay the damage, but believes there is a moral obligation. The commission voted as a unit to pay the claim, and indicated the action would be taken with reference to the Gill claim.

TO HAVE FREE PICTURE SHOW

Traction Company Asks Permission to Install One in Cameron Park.

The Southern Traction company will in all probability provide a free motion picture show at Cameron park for the entertainment of visitors to that cool resort. H. B. Ross, local superintendent of the company, requested authority from the city commission yesterday morning to place this entertainment feature at the park.

His proposal is entirely acceptable to the commission. The matter was referred to Finance Commissioner Caulfield and the park board.

In this connection the commission suggested that it might be an inducement to carry people to the park, if the traction company would augment the present contract of the city with a band that has been engaged to play concerts in the park during the summer. The commission believes that additional concerts would be appreciated by the people and that this action on the part of the traction company would bring additional revenue to its lines.

TO REBUILD OLD SUSPENSION

Contractor Says It Can Be Made as Good as Ever for About $22,000.

By an expenditure of from $22,000 to $25,000 the old suspension bridge connecting East and West Waco, can be placed in better condition and made stronger than when new, according to a report of expert bridge men, made to Mayor James H. Mackey, and communicated by the mayor to the city commission yesterday morning.

The mayor said that Charles Moore, representing Austin Bros. of Dallas, made the two trips of inspection to the bridge, and had furnished an estimate of the cost of rebuilding the structure. He said the expert's plan was to put new cables in, these to be of three or four times the strength of the original cables, and to lighten the drive in the bridge from twenty to thirty tons by using lattice steel instead of wood. Mr. Moore's estimate of the cost was $18,000. This amount included the installation of a white oak floor, laid sideways, so as to further strengthen the bridge. It was suggested by the bridge men that it would be economical to floor the structure with wooden blocks, and he estimated this would cost an additional $3,000.

The mayor said his estimate on the completed bridge with wooden block flooring was between $22,000 and $25,000, and that Mr. Moore had stated when this amount is properly expended the bridge would last longer than the old bridge has and be better and safer.

The commission believed the county should share in the expense of rebuilding the bridge and the mayor appointed Commissioners Foster and Caulfield as a committee to take the matter up with the county commissioners at the next regular meeting of that body. This will be July 14.

Take Final Action.

A meeting of the city water commission will be held this morning to take final action on the bid of C. H. Staudler for building the city pumping plant. His bid was for $21,750, specifications apparently followed, or $22,265 if it be to select brick and used. The board considered his bid ambiguous.

TO PUT GRAVEL ON CROSS ROAD

Want to Connect Two County Highways With an Improved Roadway.

Residents of the county who live convenient to the roads leading to China Springs and to Patrick, and others who use those roads, are interested now in a movement that is on foot to connect the two by a cross road that will be graveled from one to the other, at a point about half way between Bosqueville and Patrick and Bosqueville and China Springs.

C. W. Burt, M. H. Owens, J. B. Wardlaw and Ben Clark have been appointed a committee to solicit funds for the purpose. It will cost between $1500 and $2000 to do the work and they have been soliciting funds in the city. There will be three miles of road to be graveled to make the connection of the road complete. The people of the Erath community are very much interested in the project.

CONTROVERSY AS TO PIPE

Engineer Furnished the Grade But Pipes Were Not Put Low Enough.

Controversy between residents of Ethel street and representatives of the Provident Heights Water company, and the city engineer with reference to grades given the water company and residents of that street for laying the service mains, previous to pavement, occupied much of the time of the city commission yesterday morning. Wiley Flowers, superintendent of the Provident Heights Water company, told the commission he had obtained figures for the grade of the pipes from the engineering department of the city, and this grade had been followed. However, he said when contractors came along to pave, in excavating they plowed up the service pipes. To this City Engineer Byars said property owners had been notified to lower their pipes, and Mr. Flowers said that he understood the top of the pipe should be below the surface of the grade and he had followed out this understanding. Mr. Byars said that would have been correct had the mains been in the center of the street.

A. L. Elliott, also representing Ethel avenue citizens, said in his opinion no information was furnished citizens by the engineer's office. Mr. Byars stated he had given the grade but the pipes had not been put the proper depth.

The matter was finally referred to Street Commissioner Foster and he will take it up with the complaining citizens this morning.
